I don't know if there is any thing the AT can do about this. And I doubt the owner would want to file a transfer to change it. But anyway - FYI SK.

Subject: Location discrepancy

When Tim Luke was in the field locating this diversion with g.p.s. on June 5, 1996, he noted that the actual location may be different than that indicated on the water right. The attached map does indeed indicate that the diversion may be located in the NWNENW, T08S R39E S15. The water right indicates the diversion is located in SESW of Section 10.

Two section line coverages are shown on the map. The diversion is 27 feet south of the "PLSS" coverage, and 58 feet south of "Caribqq" from GCDB coverage for section 10 and 15 line boundary. It is 129 feet east of the NWNW and NENW quarter-quarter Caribqq GCDB boundary.

Per Mike Ciscell, both PLSS and GCDB coverages are accurate to about +/- 40 feet. I expect this g.p.s. data location to be accurate to about 15 feet. Therefore, there is a good likelihood that the diversion is in Section 15, but without more intensive survey work, I cannot guarantee that it is.
