Re: Information You Requested

Dear, Mr. Ruberry:

I wish to thank you for meeting with Lynn Stewart and I back in January. I have enclosed the information you requested, in regards to the December 17th letter I received from the IDWR.

I have personal knowledge that my father irrigated and watered stock in excess of the April 15th to September 15th irrigation season, but Dean Day, an older gentleman and lifelong farmer in the Lava area, has knowledge that far precedes my own. I have enclosed his statement of fact. If other information is needed please let me know and I will comply.

Sincerely,

Re: Beneficial Use of Irrigation/Stockwater

To: Idaho Department of Water Resources

Dear Sir

I have personal knowledge that the land owned by Ellis & Olive Willmore, then sold to Eldrid Leo & Genevieve Hall, then to his son Max Wengreen Hall, was irrigated long before April 15, and after October 31 each year. This is south sloping ground and historically has been irrigated, and stock watered, well in excess of the current irrigation season. Therefore the priority date of August 17, 1932 (as stated in your letter of December 17, 2001), is well satisfied.

Sincerely,

Dean Day

Re: Season of Use for Your Water Right

Dear Basin 29 Water User:

This letter is being sent to you concerning the season of use for your water rights with source of the Portneuf River and tributaries. The Judgment for the Union Grain & Elevator Co. v. McCammon Ditch Co. case set the season of use as April 15th to September 15th. However, IDWR understands that irrigation has been occurring prior to April 15th and after September 15th for several decades. From Idaho Department of Water Resources (IDWR) records, it appears that you are a successor to a party or parties from the Union Grain and Elevator Co. case and thus the following information may apply to your water rights.

If you are a successor to a party or parties to the Union Grain & Elevator decree then your water right, based on that decree, will have a season of use of April 15th to September 15th. IDWR intends to recommend "shoulder remarks" that allow early season irrigation starting from April 1st until April 14th and late season irrigation extending from September 16th until October 31st to comport with IDWR's standard season of use for the area. The priority date for the early and late season irrigation would be the date of the partial decree in the SRBA, likely a priority date with the year 2002 or 2003. If you included stockwater as a use on your claim, IDWR intends to recommend the stockwater use with the irrigation season of use and shoulder remarks.

However, if you have been putting surface water to beneficial use outside of April 15th and September 15th, prior to 1971, then you may file a separate claim for a beneficial use water right for the early and late season irrigation or an extended stockwater season.

If you choose to file a beneficial use claim to extend the season of use for irrigation purposes or for stockwater use outside the irrigation season, you will be required to file a claim with the appropriate filing fee and to provide sufficient evidence of the priority date claimed. The earliest priority date that IDWR will recommend will be August 7, 1932 because the final amended judgment in the Union Grain & Elevator Co. case was dated August 6, 1932. The actual priority date recommended for a water right for a season of use outside the set April 15th to September 15th season will depend on the evidence of when the water was actually put to beneficial use.

If you have any questions concerning this matter please contact Ernest Carlsen at IDWR's Eastern Regional Office in Idaho Falls at (208) 525-7161.

Sincerely,

David R. Tuthill, Jr., P.E.
Adjudication Bureau Chief
