To whom it may concern:

The undersigned moved to a farm $\frac{1}{2}$ mile south of the present Bowen home on Dec 17, 1951.

There was a well on the property at that time that was used by the renters and present owners to water lawn, garden, and at one time a small orchard.

This is the well still in use at the present time.

To Whom it may Concern,

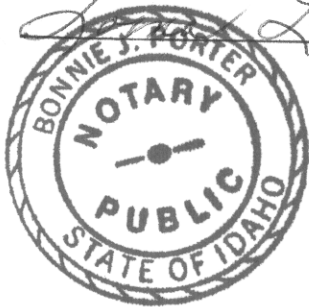

George and Lorna Kinghorn rented Ross & Gabe Clements Farm House on the East River Road, (8044 N 5 W), from the spring of 1955 until the fall of 1967.

The water for the house was from a well on the N.W. corner of the house. We also used the well to water the yard trees in a pasture and our garden - The farm ground had been leveled and it left the house and yard with no irrigation water.

If we can be any further assistance please let us know -
