RE: Snake River Basin Adjudication (SRBA)
Claim No.: 45-10832

Dear David,

As we discussed by phone on Wednesday, I have enclosed five newly created claims for Stockwater that represent various instream reaches originally included within claim 45-10832.

45-13654 only lists West Fork Dry Creek, tributary to Dry Creek Drainage.

45-13655 lists the creeks in the Trapper Creek drainage. Note that I corrected the range listed for the points of diversion and places of use of Fall Creek from 19E to 20E per USGS quadrangle map.

In my recommendation I propose to change the tributaries of several of the creeks, as follows:

Trapper Creek tributary to Goose Creek (not Oakley Reservoir)

Water Canyon Creek tributary to Badger Creek

Badger Gulch Spring tributary to Badger Creek

Pickett Spring Creek tributary to Dry Fork

Although some of the creeks may, as you claimed, often sink before reaching their listed tributaries, the changes agree with USGS quadrangle maps and identify the drainages.

I also propose to change a fork of Fall Creek claimed as Fall Creek to Unnamed Stream tributary to Fall Creek (see beginning POD SESENW Section 27 and ending POD SWNW Section 21, T15S R20E).

45-13656 includes Trout Creek and the creeks that flow into Trout Creek.

Two new claims to include creeks more correctly identified in Basin 47 are also enclosed.

47-17108 was created for Little Creek, which is tributary to Third Fork Rock Creek, not to Goose Creek as originally claimed on 45-10832.

47-17109 lists an upper reach of Goose Creek and four creeks tributary to the upper reach of Goose Creek. This is considered by IDWR to be part of basin 47. Note that Goose Creek is tributary to Snake River as corrected on this claim, verified by USGS quadrangle map BB78. After reviewing maps, I also made some minor changes to the points of diversion of the various creeks on this claim.

For your convenience I have enclosed a copy of the original filing for 45-10832. Please compare the five claims with the original and bring any conflicts to my attention. Also let me know if you disagree with any of the changes I have made to the basin 47 claims, or proposed changes in my recommendations. There are no fees for the three split portions of the right remaining in basin 45, nor for the two new claims created in basin 47, although the new claims require a signature.

If you prefer to stop by the office, please let me know, however if it is more convenient, you may sign and return the new claims by mail.

Sincerely,
