Irrigation of the property was originally set up via steel buried main lines going N+S along the property lines. Lateral hand lines was used to irrigate various sections of the 10 acre parcel depending upon desired use (rotating alfalfa, Pasture areas, etc). When I purchased the property, I replaced steel mains & hand lines with a all direct buried plastic line system and use the well to irrigate 3 acres of grass/land that matched the water claim on the property at time of purchase.
