SM Bilyeu's findings support the recommendations made by Allen Ruberry for the Siddoway and Hamilton water rights. The SM weighed the evidence produced by both sides and the Department and concluded that the objector's assertion of forfeiture was not clear and convincing nor was their argument that the source was incorrect. The SM in several places in her findings reached the same conclusion as the Department with regards to conflicting evidence. I'll keep you updated on any future happenings on this matter.

Allen did a great job developing the facts on this highly complicated matter and both he and Dave did a wonderful job presenting that at trial. Thank you both. Witnesses like you make my job much easier.

I. INTRODUCTION AND PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

Notices of claim were filed for these subcases by claimants Max Siddoway and Jack Hamilton. Mr. Siddoway claimed water right nos. 31-00053A and 31-00055C. Mr. Hamilton claimed water right nos. 31-00053B, 31-00054B and 31-00055B. IDWR investigated the claims, and Director's Reports were filed. Neighboring water users David Hirschi, Joe Knotwell, Horace Frederiksen, Howard Frederiksen, and the Rocking Question LLC (hereafter "Objectors") filed Objections. The Objectors assert that these rights were forfeited or abandoned. If these rights were not abandoned or forfeited, the Objectors dispute the Director's Report recommendation that East Camas Creek is the source of these water rights.

A settlement conference was held June 11, 2002. The parties did not settle. A trial was held in Rexburg, Idaho on September 24 through September 25, 2002. The parties filed Closing Arguments on November 6, 2002.

II. STANDARD OF REVIEW

The Director's Report has prima facie weight as set forth in I.C. § 42-1411(4)-(5). The term prima facie evidence is an alternative label for a rebuttable presumption. McCray v.

Rosenkrance, 135 Idaho 509, 514 (2001); State v. Hagerman Water Right Owners, 130 Idaho 736, 947 P.2d 409, 418 (1997); State v. Hebner, 108 Idaho 196, 97 P.2d 1210 (Ct. App. 1985). Thus, giving evidence prima facie status confers a presumption that sufficient proof has been made to prevail on an issue absent competent evidence to the contrary. Prima facie proof shifts only the burden of production, not the burden of persuasion on an issue. McCray, 135 Idaho at 514. When rebutted, the presumption disappears and the party with the benefit of the presumption retains the burden of persuasion on the issue. The facts on which the presumption is based are then weighed with other relevant facts. McCray at 514.

The Director's Report as prima facie evidence draws a conclusion as to particular elements of a water right. A presumption exists until the objector presents "substantial evidence" that the element is other than as recommended. If the objector presents such evidence, the presumption disappears. Nevertheless, the facts upon which the presumption is based are to be weighed with all other facts that may be relevant. Id. at 419.

III. FINDINGS OF FACT

A. Background

The place of use on which these water rights are claimed is located in Clark County, Idaho and was previously owned by Sherman Halverson. Mr. Halverson owned water right nos. 31-00053, 31-00054 and 31-00055 which were originally decreed in Suave v. Abbott, Case No. 635, Decree (Dist. Idaho Nov. 1, 1930). In the early 1980s, Max Siddoway and Jack Hamilton purchased the property previously owned by Mr. Halverson. Max Siddoway purchased approximately 240 acres from Mr. Halverson. Jack Hamilton purchased approximately 80 acres from Mr. Halverson. Mr. Siddoway irrigated the land he purchased from 1982 to 2002. Mr. Hamilton irrigated the property he purchased from 1983 to the present, except for one year. (Testimony of Max Siddoway and Jack Hamilton)

Irrigation in the Clark County area is accomplished by the "high mountain meadows" practice of watering. The area is irrigated from streams that have high flood flows during the early season and low, late summer flows. The irrigation systems in the area are difficult to maintain due to occasional flooding. As a result, diversion works in the area are crude by some standards. The efficiency of this type of system is lower than with furrow irrigated, sprinkler, or laser-leveled, border irrigation systems. (Testimony of Dr. Charles Brockway)

The ditch structure on the Siddoway and Hamilton properties is typical of irrigation structures in the area. It is an old structure that follows the slope of the land. The land on the west side of the ditch has been leveled and is easier to irrigate than land on the east side of the property. The seepage rates in the area are moderately high. (Testimony of Dr. Charles Brockway)

B. Forfeiture/Abandonment

The Objectors assert that these water rights were forfeited or abandoned by Sherman Halverson before he sold to Siddoway and Hamilton. Objectors assert Mr. Halverson failed to irrigate the property for many years. Objectors also claim Halverson failed to contribute money to improve the head gate on the "Knotwell-Hirschi-Bennett" ditch, showing he had abandoned these rights.

In the early 1970s, Joe Knotwell, David Hirschi, Sr. (the predecessor to Objector David Hirschi Jr.) and Kenneth Bennett (the predecessor to Objector Rocking Question, LLC) constructed a new diversion works for their water rights from East Camas Creek at T13 N, R39E, Section 32, SENWNW. The point of diversion for this new diversion works from East Camas Creek was near Mr. Halverson's property. Mr. Halverson was asked to share in the cost of building the new diversion; however, he declined to make a financial contribution. (Testimony of David Tuthill, Exhibit 6)

In 1982 and 1983, claimants diverted East Camas Creek water from the point of diversion located in T13N, R39E, Section 32, SENWNW. Water from this point of diversion flows into the "Knotwell-Hirschi-Bennett" ditch. Joe Knotwell gave Claimants permission in 1981 or 1982 to divert from the point of diversion and to use the ditch. (Testimony of David Tuthill, Testimony of Joe Knotwell, Exhibit 6)

In 1989, Knotwell, Hirschi and Bennett withdrew permission to use the East Camas Creek diversion or the "Knotwell-Hirschi-Bennett" ditch. IDWR directed the Watermaster for Water District 31 to allow Siddoway and Hamilton to divert water from East Camas Creek pending final resolution by the SRBA Court.¹ (Testimony of David Tuthill, Exhibit 6)

The Objectors presented evidence regarding forfeiture. David Hirschi worked on the

¹ The parties stipulated that the claimants' use of water from 1990 to the present will not impact the assertion of forfeiture/abandonment or source. See, Stipulation of the Parties (Sept. 24, 2002)

Halverson property mowing hay for a time. His observations of the property led him to believe it had not been irrigated because of its rough condition. (Testimony of David Hirschi) Larry Singleton worked on the McCormick place next to Mr. Halverson's property. He did not see Mr. Halverson irrigate. (Testimony of Larry Singleton) Joe Knotwell did not see Mr. Halverson irrigate. He did not observe headgates on the Halverson property until after Hamilton and Siddoway purchased the property. (Testimony of Joe Knotwell) Horace Frederiksen did not see Mr. Halverson irrigate the property. He did not observe any crop planted on the Halverson property. (Testimony of Horace Frederiksen) Howard Frederiksen helped Mr. Halverson with his sheep and cows and helped him haul hay. He observed the Halverson property and believes it was dry farmed, not irrigated. (Testimony of Howard Frederiksen) Eileen Bennett and her husband helped Mr. Halverson work on his fence in 1965 when he was hospitalized. She observed no water on his property. She did not see Mr. Halverson irrigate the property from 1948 on. (Testimony of Eileen Bennett)

The Claimants presented testimony regarding nonforfeiture. Blaine Kyle Downs, a retired federal employee with the U.S. Soil Conservation Service, was assigned to work in Clark County two days per week. Mr. Downs visited the Halverson property on many occasions and observed the ditch. He observed irrigation on the property. He worked on diversion points out of the "Knotwell-Hirschi-Bennett" ditch. He worked on contour ditches across the field. Mr. Downs observed that Mr. Halverson's irrigation practices were much like those of Mr. Bennett, the Frederiksens, and Mr. Hirschi. Mr. Halverson participated in a federal program that allowed a farmer to obtain financial assistance from the U.S. government to level farm ground. (Testimony of Blake Kyle Downs) In order to qualify for government assistance, the farmer had to have a water right and had to use that water right consistently. (Testimony of Boyd Yancey, Testimony of Blaine Kyle Downs) The Halverson property qualified as irrigated crop land for federal programs including a cost-sharing leveling program. (Testimony of Blaine Kyle Downs)

The water delivery records prepared by the Water Master in Basin 31 show these water rights were used from 1955 to 1991, with no period of nonuse for the requisite five years. (Exhibit 27) Aerial photographs of the Halverson property were taken in 1951, 1960, 1966, 1971, and 1978. (Exhibits 17, 18, 19, 20, & 21) The aerial photographs do not, by themselves, prove the Halverson property was irrigated during the years the photographs were taken. The photographs are, however, consistent with irrigation having taken place.

(Testimony of Dr. Charles Brockway)

C. Source

The Objectors assert that if these water rights were not forfeited, the source is from Camas Creek, Warm Creek, Little Warm Creek, Little Ching Creek or Ching Creek, not East Camas Creek as reported in the Director's Report. These water rights were derived from the Suave v. Abbott decree which lists the source as Camas Creek.

The Director's Report recommended the source as East Camas Creek. During its investigation of these rights in the SRBA, IDWR conducted a review of the water rights decreed in Suave v. Abbott. IDWR determined that the Suave v. Abbott court frequently decreed "Camas Creek" as the source for water rights actually located on a tributary to Camas Creek. IDWR therefore recommended rights in the SRBA with the tributary source historically used. The rights at issue were recommended on East Camas Creek as was one right recommended to objector Joe Knotwell. Both the rights at issue here and one of Mr. Knotwell's rights were described in Suave v. Abbott with the source as Camas Creek. (Exhibits 1-6, 9, Testimony of David Tuthill)

The alternative sources suggested by Objectors for these water rights are implausible. The main stem of Camas Creek is implausible, because it was nearly impossible to irrigate from Camas Creek in the 1800s. (Testimony of David Tuthill). Ching Creek is an improbable source for these rights. Without fluming, it is impossible to bring Ching Creek water to the places of use since Warm Creek is located in between. (Testimony of David Tuthill, Al Ruberry, Greg Shenton, Dr. Charles Brockway) Little Ching Creek is an improbable source for these rights because it is impossible to bring Little Ching Creek water to the west side of the property without fluming. (Testimony of Greg Shenton) Warm Creek could not have been a source for the Halverson land to the west of the ditch without fluming, and there is no evidence that such a flume ever existed. (Testimony of David Tuthill, Al Ruberry, Greg Shenton, Dr. Charles Brockway) Objectors suggested that Cottonwood Creek is another potential source, however, there was little evidence supporting Cottonwood Creek as the source. The most likely source of these water rights is East Camas Creek. (Testimony of David Tuthill, Greg Shenton, Dr. Brockway)

D. Over Appropriation

Objectors argue that these water rights should not exist on East Camas Creek because that source is overappropriated. There was insufficient proof at trial that East Camas Creek is overappropriated. IDWR did not compare the total flow rates to the diversions recommended prior to issuing the Director's Reports for these rights. Although IDWR did not estimate the flow rate on East Camas Creek, it is not more than 10 cfs. (Testimony of Dr. Brockway). Water rights totaling 23 cfs have been recommended on East Camas Creek. It is common for the total water rights on a source to exceed the flow records since water rights are not in use all the time. (Testimony of David Tuthill)

If the Hamilton and Siddoway water rights were removed from East Camas Creek, the remaining water users would receive less of their authorized diversions due to seepage rates and ditch conditions. (Testimony of Dr. Charles Brockway)

IV. ANALYSIS

A. Forfeiture/Abandonment

1. Abandonment. Abandonment of a water right is a common law concept. Both nonuse and actual relinquishment with intent to abandon must be shown. Gilbert v. Smith, 97 Idaho 735, 552 P.2d 1220 (1976). The party seeking to show abandonment has the burden of proving all elements by clear and convincing evidence. Id. Intent to abandon a water right must be shown by clear, unequivocal and decisive acts. Sears v. Berrymore, 101 Idaho 843, 623 P.2d 455 (1981). Objectors argue that Mr. Halverson's failure to make a financial contribution to improve the diversion and the "Knotwell-Hirschi-Bennett" ditch or long time failure to irrigate shows abandonment. This Special Master holds otherwise. It is not uncommon for land owners to contribute a right-of-way in lieu of a financial contribution or to make contributions other than money. Furthermore, there was conflicting evidence regarding Mr. Halverson's irrigation. This Special Master is not convinced by "clear and convincing" evidence that these rights were abandoned. This Special Master holds that these water rights were not abandoned.

2. Forfeiture. Statutory forfeiture is based on the legislative declaration in I.C. § 42-222(2) that water rights may be lost if they are not applied to a beneficial use for five continuous years. McCray, 135 Idaho at 515; Jenkins v. State, Dept. of Water Resources, 103 Idaho 384, 647 P.2d 1256 (1982). Forfeiture is disfavored under Idaho law, and the Idaho

Supreme Court has consistently held that forfeiture must be proven by "clear and convincing" evidence. McCray, 135 Idaho at 515. IDWR determined that these water rights were not forfeited. IDWR's conclusion of nonforfeiture receives prima facie weight, but the presumption can be rebutted. I.C. § 42-1411(4), McCray, 135 Idaho at 514; State v. Hagerman Water Right Owners, 130 Idaho 736 (1997)

Objectors presented enough evidence to rebut the Director's Report as to forfeiture. But after considering the facts underlying the Director's Report and the other relevant evidence, this Special Master finds that forfeiture did not occur. Although Objectors did not observe Mr. Halverson irrigating over a period of many years, other individuals observed evidence of irrigation. Halverson qualified for federal programs that required consistent irrigation. The records of irrigation kept by the Water Master indicate that Mr. Halverson's rights were used during most years and show there was no five-year period of nonuse. The facts at trial failed to show by "clear and convincing" evidence that these water rights were forfeited. This Special Master holds that these water rights were not forfeited.

B. Source

The Objectors presented evidence that source should be other than East Camas Creek.²

² This Special Master did not admit one exhibit offered to prove that source was not East Camas Creek. Objectors offered Exhibit 26, a letter to Mrs. Eileen Bennett from Watermaster Donald W. Shenton. The letter states:

First, I have no knowledge of ever delivering water to Mr. Halverson from East Camas Creek sources at the mentioned Knotwell, Hirschi, Bennett Diversion.

...after a search of the records that water right #29 which is the water right of contention, the water has been delivered every year except 1978 as far back as I reviewed the records to 1955.

However this water delivery was made to Mr. Halverson through one or the other three of Mr. Halverson's Ching Creek Points of Diversion. Up until 1982 I did not know that Right #29 was claimed to be an East Camas Creek Source until Mr. Siddoway made request for delivery at the point of diversion of contention. Mr. Halverson had on occasion told me he had the right to use water from East Camas or Ching Creek at any point of diversion that he so wished, however he did not have evidence to confirm his statements.

(Exhibit 26)

At the time of trial, Donald W. Shenton was unavailable to testify because he had passed away in 1998. Exhibit 26 is hearsay pursuant to I.R.E. 802. The exceptions to the hearsay rule, such as the business records exception pursuant to I.R.E. 803(6) or 803(24) or 804(5) do not appear to apply. However, even if this Special Master admitted Exhibit 26, this Master's Report and Recommendation would not change. Exhibit 26 has limited evidentiary weight. Mr. Shenton is not able to clarify any of the statements in his letter. Furthermore, the letter does not establish that Mr. Halverson had no rights to use East Camas Creek water. The letter merely states that when water was delivered, it was delivered to a point of diversion from Ching Creek.

Special Master's Report and Recommendation
G:/31MRR/53Aetal siddoway
12/23/02

This Special Masters holds that Objectors presented sufficient evidence to rebut the presumption afforded the Director's Report. After considering the facts underlying the Director's Report and other relevant evidence, this Special Master finds the source of these water rights is East Camas Creek. The source decreed in Suave v. Abbott was Camas Creek. The decreed source, however, must be analyzed in context. Since the Suave v. Abbott court listed Camas Creek for rights on the main stem of Camas Creek and its tributaries, the prior decree does not prevent the SRBA from correctly identifying the source as a tributary of Camas Creek. Objectors offered testimony that these rights had a source other than East Camas Creek. However, testimony showing East Camas Creek as the source was more persuasive. The investigating water agent Al Ruberry, IDWR's Adjudication Bureau Chief David Tuthill and Claimants' expert Dr. Charles Brockway testified that the alternative sources suggested by Objectors are improbable. This Special Master holds that source is East Camas Creek.

C. Over Appropriation

Objectors argued that Siddoway's and Hamilton's water rights should not be decreed with a source of East Camas Creek because East Camas Creek is overappropriated. In reviewing the facts at trial, there is insufficient evidence to prove that East Camas Creek is overappropriated. Even if East Camas Creek were overappropriated, Idaho water law does not allow a court to strip a water user of a vested water right because the source becomes overappropriated.³ In times of shortage, the prior appropriation doctrine applies and junior priority rights are not diverted.

V. CONCLUSION

The Director's Reports for these subcases conclude that these water rights were not forfeited or abandoned. The Director's Reports further conclude that the source for each of these water rights is East Camas Creek. The Objectors provided evidence to rebut the presumption afforded the Director's Report. This Special Master weighed the evidence presented at trial and is persuaded that the recommendations contained in the Director's Reports are correct. First, the evidence fails to persuade this Special Master by "clear and convincing" evidence that these rights were forfeited or abandoned. Second, this Special Master is persuaded that the source for these water rights is East Camas Creek.

³ Overappropriation may have different ramifications in cases of new water rights or transfers.

Therefore, based on the file and record herein, IT IS RECOMMENDED that these water rights be decreed with the elements set forth in the attached Special Master's Recommendations for Partial Decree.

Report to the SRBA District Court

Prepared by the Idaho Department of Water Resources
Karl J. Dreher, Director
David R. Tuthill Jr., Adjudication Bureau Chief

August 30, 2002

I. INTRODUCTION

The Director of the Idaho Department of Water Resources ("IDWR" or "the Department") submits this Supplemental Director's Report regarding subcase numbers 31-53A, 31-55C, 31-53B, 31-54B, 31-55B in accordance with Idaho Code § 42-1412(4) and Administrative Order I. This report is also submitted in response to Special Master Bilyeu's Trial Scheduling Order dated April 26, 2002, setting forth the deadline for a 706 Report from IDWR of August 30, 2002. This report sets forth the basis of the Department's recommendation for the above-listed water rights and was prepared under the supervision of Karl J. Dreher, Director, and David R. Tuthill, Jr., Adjudication Bureau Chief for IDWR.

The following employees from the Department of Water Resources have knowledge of the information contained in this report: David R. Tuthill, Jr., IDWR Adjudication Bureau Chief and Allen Ruberry, Senior Water Resource Agent, IDWR, Eastern Region Office in Idaho Falls.

II. SUMMARY OF THE ISSUES

There are several parties involved in these subcases. Max Siddoway owns water right nos. 31- 53A and 55C; Jack and Lela Hamilton own water right nos. 31-53B, 31-54B and 31-55B. These water rights will be collectively referred to as the Claimants' water rights. David Hirschi, Jr., Joe Knotwell, Horace Fredrickson, The Rocking Question LLC, and Howard Fredrickson (collectively referred to as Objectors) have all objected to all of the Claimants' water rights. The objectors allege the following:

- 1) that the Claimants' water rights have been forfeited because the prior owner of these water rights, Mr. Halverson, never used the decreed water rights or irrigated the acres in question;

2) that if the water rights are not found to be forfeited that they are at the very least not water rights from East Camas Creek but are from other surface water sources, such as Warm Creek, Little Warm Creek, Little Ching Creek and Ching Creek; and

3) that any use of East Camas Creek was developed in trespass, and thus is invalid.¹

The Department determined that these water rights are valid water rights from East Camas Creek and thus recommended these water rights with a source of East Camas Creek for irrigation on various lands located near the creek. The Department made its recommendations after extensive investigation and after conducting a fact-finding hearing pursuant to Idaho Code § 42-1410(1). Given the Department's extensive efforts to investigate these water rights, it has many related documents in its public record files. The Department is attaching to this report only the exhibits that it believes are the most notable.

III. BACKGROUND

Water Right Nos. 31-53, 31-54, and 31-55, were originally decreed in the Sauve v. Abbott Decree.² Sauve v. Abbott, Case No. 635, Decree (Dist. Idaho Nov. 1, 1930). The water rights were decreed with the source of Camas Creek. Attached hereto are Figures 1 and 2 that help illustrate the following discussion. Prior to 1933, Cottonwood Creek flowed in a southeasterly direction contributing water to Warm Creek, Little Warm Creek, Little Ching Creek, and Ching Creek. See Figure 1. Around 1933, the channel of Cottonwood Creek was changed to directly flow into East Camas Creek. See Figure 1.

In the early 1970s, Joe Knotwell, David Hirschi, Sr.³ and Kenneth Bennett⁴ began building a new diversion for their water rights from East Camas Creek at T13N, R39E, Section

² These water rights have subsequently been split into the A and B portions.

32, SENWNW. The point of diversion from East Camas Creek was near Mr. Halverson's property. See Point of Diversion on Figure 2. Mr. Halverson was invited to join in sharing the cost of building the new diversion. However, Mr. Halverson declined. The construction of the point of diversion was completed in 1974.

In the early 1980s, Max Siddoway and Jack Hamilton purchased the property that Mr. Halverson previously owned. In 1982 and 1983, the Claimants began diverting East Camas Creek water from the point of diversion on East Camas Creek located in T13N, R39E, Section 32, SENWNW (the point of diversion currently recommended). This point of diversion diverts water into what is commonly referred to as the "Knotwell-Hirschi-Bennett" ditch which is shown on Figure 2. Joe Knotwell, an owner on the ditch, gave the Claimants permission around 1981-1982 to divert from the point of diversion and use the ditch.

In 1989, the Claimants were informed by Mr. Knotwell, Mr. Hirschi and Mr. Bennett that they no longer had permission to use the East Camas Creek diversion or the "Knotwell-Hirschi-Bennett" ditch that runs from the point of diversion across the Claimants' properties. In 1990, the Department met with the water users and the Water District 31 Watermaster, Mr. Donald Shenton,⁵ concerning delivery of the Claimants' water rights. The Department directed the Watermaster to continue to allow the Claimants to divert water from the East Camas Creek diversion as a temporary solution pending final resolution by the SRBA Court. The claims for water right nos. 31-53A and 31-55C were filed by Max Siddoway on June 7, 1988 and January 11, 2001 respectively. The claims for water right nos. 31-53B, 31-54B and 31-55B were filed by the Hamiltons on June 10, 1988.

⁵ Mr. Donald Shenton died in 1998 and his successor in this elected position since that time has been his son, Mr. Greg Shenton.

IV. DISCUSSION

After extensive investigation and review, the Department determined that the Claimants have valid water rights from East Camas Creek.⁶ The Department concluded that the Claimants had been diverting the water and applying East Camas Creek water to the lands recommended since they owned the property in the early 1980s. The Department based its recommendations primarily on the following information.

First, Mr. Halverson owned decreed water rights, 31-53, 31-54, and 31-55 from Camas Creek to irrigate 230 acres. These rights were decreed in the Sauve v. Abbott decree to the Federal Land Bank of Spokane. A review of the Sauve v. Abbott decree shows that it was not uncommon for the decree to list "Camas Creek"⁷ as the source when in fact the water right was for a tributary to Camas Creek. Thus, the Department reviewed the water rights with this in mind and recommended the source to comply with what source was historically used. There was no clear and convincing evidence that Halverson ever forfeited these water rights. In fact, Watermaster records show that Halverson was delivered water nearly every year. Exhibit A is a summary dated 11-7-2000 of these records prepared by the Water District 31 Water Master, Mr. Greg Shenton.

⁶ The Department conducted several on the ground field investigations for these water rights. In addition, the Department met with the Claimants and the Objectors separately to determine the facts and legal issues involved in these subcases. Finally, the Department conducted a fact-finding hearing on October 26, 2000, with David R. Tuthill, Jr. presiding as the hearing officer to record testimony and to examine evidence concerning these water rights. The Claimants and the Objectors were all present at the fact-finding hearing as were the Watermaster and other interested citizens.

⁷ The Department discovered that the Sauve v. Abbott decree contained ambiguities for some water rights with regard to the source. In this case, the Department concluded that the decreed source of Camas Creek is a mistake because the land described in the decree would have been over two miles upstream from Camas Creek thus making delivery to those lands impossible with Camas Creek as the source. Thus, the Department concluded that the source was likely East Camas Creek. There are several water rights within the decree that contain such discrepancies. For instance, objector Knotwell's water right no. 31-115 is decreed with the source of Camas Creek as well; however, it has historically been diverted from East Camas Creek and thus that is the source recommended by the Department. Also, Knotwell's water right no. 31-116 was decreed in the Sauve v. Abbott decree with a source of "Little Spring Creek," but water is actually diverted from Kelson Creek and thus, this source is what the Department recommended.

Second, Cottonwood Creek as depicted on Figure 1 originally contributed water to Warm Creek, Little Warm Creek, Little Ching Creek and Ching Creek. However, when Cottonwood Creek was re-routed circa 1933, it no longer contributed water to these three creeks. Thus, if Halverson had been using water from Warm Creek and Little Warm Creek as contended by the Objectors, then these sources were nearly dried up due to Cottonwood Creek's channel being re-routed. Thus, it is reasonable to believe that Mr. Halverson began using water primarily from East Camas Creek starting in the mid-1930s. This use of East Camas Creek would not have resulted in injury given the fact that Cottonwood Creek was now contributing new water to East Camas Creek that the decreed users on that creek had never historically enjoyed.

Third, when Knotwell, Hirschi and Bennett began constructing the new point of diversion on East Camas Creek, they asked Mr. Halverson whether he wanted to share in the cost. This fact was testified to by Mrs. Bennett at the Fact-Finding Hearing when she referred to her written narrative of the "Water Problems in Kilgore." Part of that document says that "At the time the new headgate was put in, Sherman did not wish to have anything to do with it." A portion of this document containing this statement is attached hereto as Exhibit B. Max Siddoway also testified to this fact. (IDWR Fact Finding Hearing, October 26, 2000)⁸ During the Department's discussions with the Objectors, the Objectors mentioned the fact that Mr. Halverson would not pay for the diversion, thus he was not allowed to use it. Mr. Halverson was invited to share in the cost of building the diversion structure to divert East Camas Creek water so must have had a right to divert East Camas Creek water.

In addition, a letter written by Blaine Kyle Downs, dated November 9, 2000, states that when he worked for the Soil Conservation Service in 1959, Mr. Halverson contacted the office the property and saw that Mr. Halverson had been irrigating from the ditch that came from East Camas Creek and was irrigating the land adjacent to the ditch. This letter is attached hereto as Exhibit C. Thus, Mr. Halverson was using East Camas Creek water at the time the diversion structure was being built and before. Given this information, the Department concluded that Halverson had diverted and beneficially used East Camas Creek water prior to the building of the new diversion structure.

Fourth, Joe Knotwell gave the Claimants permission around 1981 or 1982 to use the diversion point and the ditch, if only for a temporary time period, when they first purchased Halverson's property. This fact was asserted by Claimants and by Mr. Knotwell in discussions with the Department. Attached hereto as Exhibit D are notes dated May, 1990, from Department employee Ron Carlson, who attended a meeting with area water users to discuss delivery of Claimants' water rights. The notes state: "Joe Knotwell originally allowed Hamilton and Siddoway to use ditch FOR PURPOSE OF GETTING ALONG" (emphasis in original). Above that entry, there is a note that says, "Existing ditch owned by Hirshhi, [sic] Knotwell. Watermaster has delivered water for past 9 years." These entries establish that Claimants had been using the diversion and the ditch with Mr. Knotwell's permission since around 1981. In addition, the fact that Mr. Knotwell gave Claimants permission to use the diversion and ditch is corroborated by a letter dated October 19, 1989 to Claimants from K.L. Bennett, Joe S. Knotwell and David J. Hirschi that states:

As of this notice you are informed that you can no longer use our water diversion located in Section 32 on East Camas.

Watermaster, Don Shenton, has been notified to not deliver any water to you from said diversion located on the Mc Cormick [sic] property in the NW1/4 of Section 32, Township 13N, Range 39E, Clark County, Idaho.

However this water delivery was made to Mr. Halverson through one or the other three of Mr. Halverson's Ching Creek Points of Diversion. Up until 1982 I did not know that Right #29 was claimed to be an East Camas Creek Source until Mr. Siddoway made request for delivery at the point of diversion of contention. Mr. Halverson had on occasion told me he had the right to use water from East Camas or Ching Creek at any point of diversion that he so wished, however he did not have evidence to confirm his statements.

Don Shenton passed away in 1998 and thus, he is not able to clarify any of the statements in his letter. However, the Department reviewed this letter but concluded, given the other evidence, that this letter did not establish that Mr. Halverson had no right to use East Camas Creek water. This letter merely states that when water was delivered to Mr. Halverson, that it was delivered to a point of diversion for Ching Creek. Whether or not Mr. Halverson used East Camas Creek water prior to making a call for water is unclear. Mr. Halverson likely used more than one source.⁹

Fifth, aerial photos reviewed and discussed during the hearing show that circa the 1960s Halverson leveled some of the acres claimed by Siddoway and Hamilton. These photos are attached hereto as Exhibit G. In fact, there is no dispute that Halverson leveled the ground and that in order to receive monetary and engineering assistance from the ACSC office and the Soil Conservation Service for such leveling the property had to be irrigated. There was testimony by Howard Fredrickson, Max Siddoway and Eileen Bennett that Halverson worked with the ASCS office and the Soil Conservation Service to seek financial assistance for the leveling project. (IDWR Fact Finding Hearing, October 26, 2000) According to Howard Fredrickson, a prerequisite for obtaining funding was to demonstrate that the land to be leveled had a valid water right and was irrigated. (IDWR Fact Finding Hearing, October 26, 2000) Furthermore, the Department's field examinations confirmed that this portion of the property had in fact been leveled. One reason property is leveled is to improve the ability to irrigate the property. In addition, Mrs. Bennett testified that her husband and brother-in-law seeded Halverson's ground with barley and helped him "gather up" the sprinkler pipe. (IDWR Fact Finding Hearing, October 26, 2000) Mr. Hirschi supplied an affidavit after the fact-finding hearing that states the source of this water came from "Warm Creek at a location near the current residence of Max Siddoway, where there was a deep hole in the creek that provided an adequate supply of water for the high-volume pump that he used." This affidavit is attached hereto as Exhibit H. Yet, there was testimony that the pump was placed in the ditch that ran from East Camas Creek from Mr. Hirschi and Mr. Fredrickson. (IDWR Fact Finding Hearing, October 26, 2000) The Department concluded that this affidavit, in light of the other evidence that Halverson used East Camas Creek water, did not establish that there was no right to use East Camas Creek water but only that Halverson may have used some Warm Creek water the year in 1977. The fact that the land was leveled and that the property was irrigated is further evidence that Halverson historically irrigated the property adjacent to the ditch and that the water rights were not forfeited.

Finally, satellite imagery shows that in 1987 the property recommended to the Claimants appeared to be irrigated.

Based on the above information, the Department concluded that the Claimants' water rights were valid from East Camas Creek on the land recommended.

V. CONCLUSION

The Department's recommendation of these water rights is based on historical evidence and reasonable conclusions. Thus, the Special Master should recommend that the SRBA District Court partially decree these water rights as they are described in the Director's Report.

Water Problem in Kilgore

A 1893 water decree is causing the problem, together with its related or implied Tangents.

This water right first belonged to Jensen, then passed on to Sherman Halverson with the sale of that property. In turn the property was sold to Harold and May Siddaway in 1981.

A parcel of land of this property also had a 1895 water right.

During Sherman Halverson's tenure of ownership in a new head gate was installed in East Camas Creek, for the delivery of water to Joe Knutson, David Nirschi, and K. L. Bennett whose point of diversion it was for their decrees.

Joe Knutson - May 1, 1896 .6

David Nirschi - June 1, 1891 .7

K. L. Bennett - June 1, 1891 1.1

June 1, 1895 1.5

This point of diversion is up in the McCormick Estate property. At the time the new head gate was put in Sherman did not wish to have anything to do with it. The project was cost shared by Knutson, Nirschi, Bennett and the ASCS.

November 9, 2000

To Whom It May Concern:

My name is Kyle Downs and I live in Terreton, Idaho. It has been brought to my attention that on the property owned by Max Siddoway in Kilgore the existing water right and point of diversion have been brought into question.

For your information, in 1959 I was employed by the Soil Conservation Service as a conservation technician. At that time the owner of the property was Sherman Halverson. He had contacted our office to assist him in installing structures on a ditch north of his house. He had been irrigating from the ditch that came from East Camas through the McCormick place. I noticed at that time that he had checked-up the low spots along the ditch and had been irrigating the land adjacent to it out of both sides. This piece of land had been irrigated for many years from this ditch. If there are any questions concerning this matter please feel free to call me. Thank you.

RE: East Camas Water Right

Dear Mrs. Bennett,

In answer to your letter dated July 9, I will try to explain the happenings as I have found in my records and by my best recollection as to why the record indicates what it does.

First, I have no knowledge of ever delivering water to Mr. Sherman Halverson from East Camas Creek sources at the mentioned Knotwell, Hirshi, Bennett Diversion.

I must inform you however, that after a search of the records that water right #29 which is the water right of contention, the water has been delivered every year except 1978 as far back as I reviewed the records to 1955.

However this water delivery was made to Mr. Halverson through one or the other three of Mr. Halverson's Ching Creek Points of Diversion. Up until 1982 I did not know that Right #29 was claimed to be an East Camas Creek Source until Mr. Siddoway made request for delivery at the point of diversion of contention. Mr. Halverson had on occasion told me he had the right to use water from East Camas or Ching Creek at any point of diversion that he so wished, however he did not have evidence to confirm his statements.

The biggest problem with defining the source is that the decree states the source to be Camas Creek but the water had been delivered by my predecessors from Ching Creek. Mr. Halverson told me on occasion that the original source was Warm Creek. I made the deliveries through Ching Creek mostly because that is the way it was historically done and was accepted as such by the users on Ching Creek. The decree is very vague on source of water and the point of diversion as you will note.

There were no deliveries of water from Right #29 in 1981, but since that time deliveries have been made from East Camas Creek from Right #29 to Siddoway and Hamilton.

Hoping this will answer your request.

Sincerely,

Donald W. Shenton

1. I am an individual over the age of 21 years and I reside at 1749 East 100 North, Rexburg, Idaho 83440. I have personal knowledge of the information set forth in this affidavit.
2. I am familiar with the land leveled in approximately 1977, by Sherman Halverson, who then owned the parcel in section 32, township 13 north, range 39 east, through which the Knotwell/Hirschi/Bennett ditch runs after leaving the point of diversion of East Carnas Creek.
3. After the land was leveled, Mr. Halverson acquired a sprinkler irrigation system to sprinkle the newly-leveled parcel. He obtained water for the sprinkling system by pumping from Warm Creek at a location near the current residence of Max Siddoway, where there was a deep hole in the creek that provided an adequate supply of water for the high-volume pump that he used. I particularly remember this hole in Warm Creek, because for several years, Mr. Halverson, as well as my father and others in the neighborhood, backed our wooden wheeled wagons into the hole, which was deep enough to cover the wagon wheels, in order to soak the wheels to swell the wood and tighten the spokes and rim.

Water Resources.

4. At no time was any excavation made in the Knotwell/Hirschi/Bennett ditch that would have been adequate to supply the volume of water required for the pump to sprinkle irrigate.

STANDARD FORM 1

OBJECTION

REASONS SUPPORTING EACH BOX CHECKED

The Party/Claimant sets forth the following reasons supporting the objection to the recommendation of the Director's Report respecting the water right referenced by the referenced subcase right number (the "Right"):

2. Source: Party/Claimant objects to the source of the water on the following reasons:
- (a) The owner of the Right and his predecessors in interest have not historically used East Camas Creek as the source of irrigation water.
 - (b) Any use of water from East Camas Creek by the owner of the Right and his predecessors in interest constituted trespass in which no rights were obtained.
 - (c) Any use of water from East Camas Creek was obtained under the action and instructions of the watermaster and did not vest any rights in the owner of the Right by adverse possession or otherwise.
 - (d) Any use of water from East Camas Creek was obtained under the action and instructions of the Idaho Department of Water Resources ("IDWR") as an expressly temporary measure pending completion of the Snake River Basin Adjudication based on the representation of the IDWR that such use was temporary and would merely preserve the status quo and not vest any right in the owner of the Rights or impair, prejudice, or otherwise adversely affect the rights of the Party/Claimant. The Party/Claimant reasonably relied on such representations in forbearing from taking unilateral actions to protect its rights.
 - (e) Any authorization, consent, or acquiescence to the use of water from East Camas Creek was limited, temporary, and conditional for a single, relatively wet season and did not vest any rights for subsequent seasons in the owner of the Right or his predecessors in interest.
 - (f) Any authorization, consent, or acquiescence to the use of water from East Camas Creek by only one of three joint tenant owners of the point of diversion, diversion structure, and distribution ditch was not authorized by, was not on behalf of, and did not bind the other two joint tenants.
 - (g) The owner of the Right and his predecessors in interest expressly and repeatedly rejected any participation in costs for the maintenance and improvement of the point of diversion, diversion structure, and distribution ditch necessary for the use of water from East Camas Creek.
 - (h) Any beneficial use of water from East Camas Creek by the predecessors in interest of the owners of the Rights has been fully forfeited and abandoned.

- (i) Each and every other reason supported by the evidence to be provided at the hearing or trial.

5. Point of Diversion: Party/Claimant objects to the point of diversion for the following reasons:

- (a) The owner of the Right and his predecessors in interest have not historically used this point of diversion as the source of irrigation water.
- (b) Any use or access to the point of diversion and the related distribution ditch by the owner of the Right and his predecessors in interest constituted trespass in which no rights were obtained.
- (c) Any use or access to the point of diversion and the related distribution ditch were obtained under the action and instructions of the watermaster and did not vest any rights in the owner of the Right.
- (d) Any use or access to the point of diversion and the related distribution ditch were obtained under the action and instructions of the Idaho Department of Water Resources ("IDWR") as an expressly temporary measure pending completion of the Snake River Basin Adjudication based on the representation of the IDWR that such use was temporary and would merely preserve the status quo and not vest any right in the owner of the Rights or impair, prejudice, or otherwise adversely affect the rights of the Party/Claimant. The Party/Claimant reasonably relied on such representations in forbearing from taking unilateral actions to protect its rights.
- (e) Any authorization, consent, or acquiescence to the use of or access to the point of diversion and the related distribution ditch were limited, temporary, and conditional for a single, relatively wet season and did not vest any rights for any subsequent season in the owner of the Right or his predecessors in interest.
- (f) Any authorization, consent, or acquiescence to the use of or access to the point of diversion and the related distribution ditch by only one of three joint tenant owners of the point of diversion, diversion structure, and distribution ditch was not authorized by, was not on behalf of, and did not bind the other two joint tenants.
- (g) The owner of the Right and his predecessors in interest expressly and repeatedly rejected any participation in costs for the maintenance and improvement of the point of diversion, diversion structure, and distribution ditch.
- (h) Any claim or right in the point of diversion, diversion structure, and distribution ditch by the predecessors in interest of the owners of the Rights has been fully forfeited and abandoned.
- (i) Each and every other reason supported by the evidence to be provided at the hearing or trial.

9. Place of Use: Party/Claimant objects to the legal description of the place of use for the following reasons:

- (a) The foregoing reasons are incorporated herein by reference to the extent that the place of use is dependent on the source and point of diversion specified in the right.

11.a. Water Right Recommendation: Party/Claimant objects to this water right being recommended for all of the reasons set forth above, which are incorporated herein by reference.

STANDARD FORM 1

OBJECTION

REASONS SUPPORTING EACH BOX CHECKED

The Party/Claimant sets forth the following reasons supporting the objection to the recommendation of the Director's Report respecting the water right referenced by the referenced subcase right number (the "Right"):

2. Source: Party/Claimant objects to the source of the water on the following reasons:
- (a) The owner of the Right and his predecessors in interest have not historically used East Camas Creek as the source of irrigation water.
 - (b) Any use of water from East Camas Creek by the owner of the Right and his predecessors in interest constituted trespass in which no rights were obtained.
 - (c) Any use of water from East Camas Creek was obtained under the action and instructions of the watermaster and did not vest any rights in the owner of the Right by adverse possession or otherwise.
 - (d) Any use of water from East Camas Creek was obtained under the action and instructions of the Idaho Department of Water Resources ("IDWR") as an expressly temporary measure pending completion of the Snake River Basin Adjudication based on the representation of the IDWR that such use was temporary and would merely preserve the status quo and not vest any right in the owner of the Rights or impair, prejudice, or otherwise adversely affect the rights of the Party/Claimant. The Party/Claimant reasonably relied on such representations in forbearing from taking unilateral actions to protect its rights.
 - (e) Any authorization, consent, or acquiescence to the use of water from East Camas Creek was limited, temporary, and conditional for a single, relatively wet season and did not vest any rights for subsequent seasons in the owner of the Right or his predecessors in interest.
 - (f) Any authorization, consent, or acquiescence to the use of water from East Camas Creek by only one of three joint tenant owners of the point of diversion, diversion structure, and distribution ditch was not authorized by, was not on behalf of, and did not bind the other two joint tenants.
 - (g) The owner of the Right and his predecessors in interest expressly and repeatedly rejected any participation in costs for the maintenance and improvement of the point of diversion, diversion structure, and distribution ditch necessary for the use of water from East Camas Creek.
 - (h) Any beneficial use of water from East Camas Creek by the predecessors in interest of the owners of the Rights has been fully forfeited and abandoned.

- (i) Each and every other reason supported by the evidence to be provided at the hearing or trial.

5. Point of Diversion: Party/Claimant objects to the point of diversion for the following reasons:

- (a) The owner of the Right and his predecessors in interest have not historically used this point of diversion as the source of irrigation water.
- (b) Any use or access to the point of diversion and the related distribution ditch by the owner of the Right and his predecessors in interest constituted trespass in which no rights were obtained.
- (c) Any use or access to the point of diversion and the related distribution ditch were obtained under the action and instructions of the watermaster and did not vest any rights in the owner of the Right.
- (d) Any use or access to the point of diversion and the related distribution ditch were obtained under the action and instructions of the Idaho Department of Water Resources ("IDWR") as an expressly temporary measure pending completion of the Snake River Basin Adjudication based on the representation of the IDWR that such use was temporary and would merely preserve the status quo and not vest any right in the owner of the Rights or impair, prejudice, or otherwise adversely affect the rights of the Party/Claimant. The Party/Claimant reasonably relied on such representations in forbearing from taking unilateral actions to protect its rights.
- (e) Any authorization, consent, or acquiescence to the use of or access to the point of diversion and the related distribution ditch were limited, temporary, and conditional for a single, relatively wet season and did not vest any rights for any subsequent season in the owner of the Right or his predecessors in interest.
- (f) Any authorization, consent, or acquiescence to the use of or access to the point of diversion and the related distribution ditch by only one of three joint tenant owners of the point of diversion, diversion structure, and distribution ditch was not authorized by, was not on behalf of, and did not bind the other two joint tenants.
- (g) The owner of the Right and his predecessors in interest expressly and repeatedly rejected any participation in costs for the maintenance and improvement of the point of diversion, diversion structure, and distribution ditch.
- (h) Any claim or right in the point of diversion, diversion structure, and distribution ditch by the predecessors in interest of the owners of the Rights has been fully forfeited and abandoned.
- (i) Each and every other reason supported by the evidence to be provided at the hearing or trial.

9. Place of Use: Party/Claimant objects to the legal description of the place of use for the following reasons:

- (a) The foregoing reasons are incorporated herein by reference to the extent that the place of use is dependent on the source and point of diversion specified in the right.

11.a. Water Right Recommendation: Party/Claimant objects to this water right being recommended for all of the reasons set forth above, which are incorporated herein by reference.

STANDARD FORM 1

OBJECTION

REASONS SUPPORTING EACH BOX CHECKED

The Party/Claimant sets forth the following reasons supporting the objection to the recommendation of the Director's Report respecting the water right referenced by the referenced subcase right number (the "Right"):

2. Source: Party/Claimant objects to the source of the water on the following reasons:

- (a) The owner of the Right and his predecessors in interest have not historically used East Camas Creek as the source of irrigation water.
- (b) Any use of water from East Camas Creek by the owner of the Right and his predecessors in interest constituted trespass in which no rights were obtained.
- (c) Any use of water from East Camas Creek was obtained under the action and instructions of the watermaster and did not vest any rights in the owner of the Right by adverse possession or otherwise.
- (d) Any use of water from East Camas Creek was obtained under the action and instructions of the Idaho Department of Water Resources ("IDWR") as an expressly temporary measure pending completion of the Snake River Basin Adjudication based on the representation of the IDWR that such use was temporary and would merely preserve the status quo and not vest any right in the owner of the Rights or impair, prejudice, or otherwise adversely affect the rights of the Party/Claimant. The Party/Claimant reasonably relied on such representations in forbearing from taking unilateral actions to protect its rights.
- (e) Any authorization, consent, or acquiescence to the use of water from East Camas Creek was limited, temporary, and conditional for a single, relatively wet season and did not vest any rights for subsequent seasons in the owner of the Right or his predecessors in interest.
- (f) Any authorization, consent, or acquiescence to the use of water from East Camas Creek by only one of three joint tenant owners of the point of diversion, diversion structure, and distribution ditch was not authorized by, was not on behalf of, and did not bind the other two joint tenants.
- (g) The owner of the Right and his predecessors in interest expressly and repeatedly rejected any participation in costs for the maintenance and improvement of the point of diversion, diversion structure, and distribution ditch necessary for the use of water from East Camas Creek.
- (h) Any beneficial use of water from East Camas Creek by the predecessors in interest of the owners of the Rights has been fully forfeited and abandoned.

- (i) Each and every other reason supported by the evidence to be provided at the hearing or trial.

5. Point of Diversion: Party/Claimant objects to the point of diversion for the following reasons:

- (a) The owner of the Right and his predecessors in interest have not historically used this point of diversion as the source of irrigation water.
- (b) Any use or access to the point of diversion and the related distribution ditch by the owner of the Right and his predecessors in interest constituted trespass in which no rights were obtained.
- (c) Any use or access to the point of diversion and the related distribution ditch were obtained under the action and instructions of the watermaster and did not vest any rights in the owner of the Right.
- (d) Any use or access to the point of diversion and the related distribution ditch were obtained under the action and instructions of the Idaho Department of Water Resources ("IDWR") as an expressly temporary measure pending completion of the Snake River Basin Adjudication based on the representation of the IDWR that such use was temporary and would merely preserve the status quo and not vest any right in the owner of the Rights or impair, prejudice, or otherwise adversely affect the rights of the Party/Claimant. The Party/Claimant reasonably relied on such representations in forbearing from taking unilateral actions to protect its rights.
- (e) Any authorization, consent, or acquiescence to the use of or access to the point of diversion and the related distribution ditch were limited, temporary, and conditional for a single, relatively wet season and did not vest any rights for any subsequent season in the owner of the Right or his predecessors in interest.
- (f) Any authorization, consent, or acquiescence to the use of or access to the point of diversion and the related distribution ditch by only one of three joint tenant owners of the point of diversion, diversion structure, and distribution ditch was not authorized by, was not on behalf of, and did not bind the other two joint tenants.
- (g) The owner of the Right and his predecessors in interest expressly and repeatedly rejected any participation in costs for the maintenance and improvement of the point of diversion, diversion structure, and distribution ditch.
- (h) Any claim or right in the point of diversion, diversion structure, and distribution ditch by the predecessors in interest of the owners of the Rights has been fully forfeited and abandoned.
- (i) Each and every other reason supported by the evidence to be provided at the hearing or trial.

9. Place of Use: Party/Claimant objects to the legal description of the place of use for the following reasons:

- (a) The foregoing reasons are incorporated herein by reference to the extent that the place of use is dependent on the source and point of diversion specified in the right.

11.a. Water Right Recommendation: Party/Claimant objects to this water right being recommended for all of the reasons set forth above, which are incorporated herein by reference.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Files 31-00053 & 31-00055

FROM: Pam Skaggs²/State Office

SUBJECT: Transfer 4372

DATE: September 8, 1999

Transfer 4372 changes the source, point of diversion, and place of use to reflect the existing use under a portion of Rights 31-00053 and 31-00055, splitting each right into Parts A and B. The applicant wants to clarify the existing use of these rights through this transfer and companion Transfer 5308.

This transfer was protested and the applicant signed an agreement clarifying the use of these rights with other users from related sources. The agreement included advancing the priority of Right 31-00055B to 05-01-1896 and was made part of the approval conditions.

Recommended conditions include watermaster control, measuring device & lockable controlling works, subject to protest agreement, advanced priority combined right limits, irrigation overlap and standard transfer conditions.

WATER RIGHT TRANSFER #4372 AGREEMENT

The applicant agrees that the priority waters dated June 1, 1897 in the amount of 0.75 c.f.s. and 1.40 c.f.s. of the waters with priority of August 8, 1893, which are proposed to be used at the Little Ching Creek Diversion shall be delivered and demanded from Little Ching Creek sources only. We agree there will be no demands of junior water rights from upstream sources from East Camas Creek, Cottonwood Creek, Warm Creek or the main Ching Creek channel. We agree that the water demand from Little Ching Creek shall be from the present sources that presently supply this point of diversion, which may be caused from sinks waters from run off waters from any upstream stream and or irrigation return flows, which might also feed this Little Ching Creek source.

The applicant also agrees that if this Little Ching Creek transfers is approved in the amounts above, then the balance of water from the East Camas water right in the amount of 1.30 c.f.s. total diversion rate shall continue to be delivered under the Interim Delivery Order issued by the I.D.W.R. with a priority date of no better than May 1, 1896. The applicant agrees to amend his claims to reflect the same as above written, at the time the transfer has been approved by the I.D.W.R.

We agree that the letter dated November 23, 1994 from the I.D.W.R. and signed by Harold Jones be part of this agreement.

We also agree that the protests filed to the use of this East Camas Creek water use by Siddoway, prior to the Interim Order, will not in any way waive the right to protest and or challenge the results of this balance of water from East Camas Creek under right #31-0053, 31-0054, and 31-0055. We agree that these protestants are not required in any way to recognize the validity of this water right simply because they agree to the transfer of parts of decreed water right #31-0055 and #31-0054, to Little Ching Creek.

The applicants state that they will make no demands from any water user for flows from diverted irrigation waters to maintain a return flow of waste waters so as to maintain a source or flow of water for or into Little Ching Creek.

The applicants stipulate that this agreement be part of this water right and shall be binding in all ways to predecessors of interest to these water rights.

We request that this agreement or stipulation be part of the conditions of approval of this water right transfer #4372.

ATTORNEY/CLIENT PRIVILEGE

FROM: CMM

RE: Hamilton/Siddoway vs Knotwell, Bennett, Kruse Fredrickson
Kilgore, East Camas Water Users

DATE: July 31, 2000

The following is a summary of the notes I took when I discussed the facts of the above-mentioned dispute.

Date: July 21, 2000

Time: 2:00 p.m.

Place: Dubois, Courthouse

Present: Al Ruberry – IDWR, Jack Hamilton, Max and Harold Siddoway

The story was presented mainly by Max Siddoway.

(1974, current diversion on E. Camas was built)

1981, Harold Siddoway bought the property. Don Shenton said the water was from East Camas Creek but part of the land couldn't be watered from E. Camas so Ching Creek was probably the source. When Cottonwood Creek was diverted into E. Camas, Little Warm Creek was dried up. The "agreement" was that Halverson could take water from wherever he wanted.

Prior to Cottonwood Creek being diverted, there was a diversion on Little Warm (still there) on Hamilton's property.

Halverson bought property in 1946 and said he "always" used the current diversion on East Camas. Lloy Johnson, water master, used to deliver E. Camas Creek water to Halverson from E. Camas.

1982, Siddoway and Hamilton built 3 structures. 1 diversion for Hamilton, 2 diversions for Siddoway (1 on Hamilton's land, 1 on Siddoway's land). Siddoways shared Joe Knotwell's, with Joe's permission, the diversion which is located on Siddoway's property. Siddoways used this diversion with Knotwell until the fall of 1989.

1989, trouble between the parties began. On 9/1/89 6 users wrote a letter to Don "protesting" any transfer by Hamilton or Siddoway. However, no transfer was ever filed. 10/19/89 Hamilton and Siddoway receive a letter from Bennett, Knotwell and Hirschi saying they can no longer use the E. Camas Creek diversion.

1990, a meeting with the parties at the Kilgore store was held with Norm, Ron and Don Shenton present. It was a "mess." Following the meeting, there was a June 4, 1990 agreement proposed by Norm. On June 24, Norm wrote a letter to Don directing delivery. There was a second letter from Norm to Don on January 2, 1991. - CONTENT?

1991, Knotwells sent a letter to the Department stating that Halverson did not pay for any portion of the diversion works. Hamilton and Siddoways clear the weir pond and Hamilton talked to Knotwell about this. Don Shenton was putting in weir boards for everyone and left the board at Hamilton's place which angered Knotwell. Knotwell called Hamilton and told him to give him the weir board.

1992, water was really low this year so the parties agreed to take turns however when the Hamilton and Siddoway's turn came, Knotwell et al would not allow them to take any water. Don Shenton was called and he said the only thing that could be done is to employ a lateral ditch manager. On 6/4/92 Department issues and order appointing Don Shenton the lateral ditch manager. Don began to deliver water for a couple of years then the parties starting doing it themselves again.

1993 or 94?, Max Siddoway talked to Knotwell and others and proposed to advance their priority dates to 1896 and Knotwell et al agreed. Joe Knotwell wrote a letter agreeing to as much. Siddoway applied for a transfer to advance part of the 1893 water to 1896 and to transfer the other portion of the 1893 and all of the 1897 water to Little Ching Creek. The Notice which was sent out by IDWR was confusing so people protested.

↳ Little Warm Cr.

1996, Don wrote an agreement after meeting with E. Camas Users. They would withdraw their protest if Siddoway and Hamilton agreed to advance priority date among other things. Siddoway signed the agreement.

1999, transfer approved and today Siddoways are using water according to the transfer.

They would pay Halverson's part of the diversion works.

Date: July 21, 2000

Time: 1:00 p.m.

Place: Dubois, Courthouse

Present: Al Ruberry – IDWR, Horace & Shirley Fredrickson, Howard Fredrickson, Kevin & Bill Fredrickson, James & Mary Kruse, Boyd McCormack, Joe & Romona Knotwell, Joe Knotwell told the story to begin with.

1905, Joe's grandfather bought the place Joe currently owns. At that time, Hirschi and Bennett were using the water rights.

1933 – Cottonwood Creek was re-routed to run into Camas Creek. It no longer put water into Little Warm Creek. (Howard Fredrickson)

1930 – Joe helped his grandfather. At that time, he helped bring hay and manure and logs to dam East Camas Creek and used the same ditch that is at issue today.

1941 – Joe drafted and spent 5 years in the Army

1946 -- Joe returned and lived on his grandparent's place, he then began working for the USFS. He continued to irrigate as his grandparents had.

1955ish – Joe began working with the ACS (ASCS?) office – he needed to build a new diversion. He talked to Hirschi, Bennett (and Halverson) and asked if they would pay. Hirschi and Bennett agreed to pay but Halverson was not interested. He was going to develop Little Warm Creek and Ching Creek.

1974 – Diversion works was completed.

1981 – The parties see a backhoe on the private ditch putting in 2 headgates on Hamilton's property. Knotwell talked to Hamilton and Harold Siddoway and told them they couldn't do that. Watermaster had been delivering water to Siddoway and Hamilton.

Knotwell has 30 inches of water w/ a priority date of 1896.

Knotwell has 1 diversion off of the ditch which is located on Siddoway's property. This diversion is approximately ¼ mile south of the original diversion because it was rebuilt after Halverson plowed the old diversion ditch under.

Fredricksons divert out of East Camas Creek (lower down)

Hirschi has had some problems with getting water. Kruse does not feel they have had any problems getting water.

The parties said that locking headgates could be used.

According to all present at the meeting, Halverson never irrigated between East Camas Creek and Little Warm Creek and Ching Creek. Halverson used to irrigate on the East side of Ching Creek. Howard Fredrickson used to help with Halverson's sheep and there was never any irrigation where the Hamilton and Siddoway properties are.

QUESTIONS/THOUGHTS

If Halverson never diverted from E. Camas Creek, why did Knotwell ask Halverson if he wanted to go in on the diversion works?

If Halverson never diverted from E. Camas Creek, why does Greg Shenton have delivery records for Halverson dating at least back to 1975? Need to clarify from Greg what his hand-out means, are they actually deliveries from E. Camas?

— DELIVERY FROM WHAT SOURCE? WHOSE WAS P.O.D? AS WHEN.

Joe Knotwell's letter, received by IDWR on 6/20/90 says he would agree to allow use of the ditch if there was only May 1, 1896 and 1897 water used by Siddoway and Hamilton, why won't he allow that now?

Knotwell acknowledges that they allowed Siddoway and Hamilton to use the ditch temporarily in his 6/19/92 letter to Don Shenton. However, now he says he never gave them permission, why?

How many acres are allowed to be irrigated under the Hamilton/Siddoway rights in question and how many acres are being irrigated? PER NORM = 71² AC, TODAY = SAME

Need to research a private property owner's right to use a ditch that runs through his property but is allegedly owned by a neighbor.

What is Joe Knotwell's priority date? 31-00115, 0.6 cfs, May 1, 1896, Camas CK.

Mediation may be the best option to find a resolution.

Here is a summary of the notes I took at the meetings with the Kilgore claimants. I summarized what they said w/o looking to outside sources to verify accuracy. At the end of the document are just thoughts that occurred to me while I was thinking about the issues.

I plan to call Greg Shenton and also find out whether Lloy Johnson may remember anything of significance. If I find anything of interest out, I will let you know.

I am hoping to research your diversion works question today and tomorrow. I hope to have an answer to you by the end of the week. Thanks

MEMORANDUM
PRIVILEGED DOCUMENT – ATTORNEY WORK PRODUCT,
ATTORNEY CLIENT PRIVILEGE [remove from files prior to public review]

DATE: 7/13/00
TO: Candice McHugh, Al Ruberry
FROM: Vicky Music
RE: Kilgore area [claimants: Knotwell, Bennett (deceased), Hirschi, Hamilton, Siddoway]

This memo is written to summarize the fact situation based on my file review and identify factual gaps and legal issues.

Facts

In 1981, Harold and Max Siddoway and Jack Hamilton purchased property from Sherman Halvorsen. At some point after the purchase, they diverted water from E Camas Cr. from the diversion controlled by Joe Knotwell, K.L. Bennett and David Hirschi [K/B/H]. Knotwell et al acknowledge that they provided a permissive use of the point of diversion until their ditch and diversions could be constructed. It is unclear from the documents if they granted this permissive use to the prior owners or if it was communicated directly to S/H or where the prior owner diverted water.

There was a lot of activity in 1989-92. There were several meetings and correspondence between IDWR and the waterusers and also between Don Shenton, the watermaster, and Norm Young as the K/B/H group sought to prevent H/S from using their diversion works and ditch. Some of the documents refer to protests of a transfer in 1989 but there is no application or other documents that indicate a transfer in this time period. In 1990, Norm Young drafted an "Agreement for Interim Distribution" that was objected to by several E. Camas waterusers and there is not a fully executed agreement in any of the files. However, because the watermaster needed guidance regarding water delivery, Norm issued an Interim Order of E. Camas Cr. waterusers. I believe this is the document dated 6/12/90 and referred to extensively in the file correspondence.

In 6/94, Siddoway applied for a transfer #4372 to change the point of diversion from the historic diversion of E. Camas Cr. to Little Ching Cr. to allow them to more efficiently use their decreed right. They amended the application the same day. The stated purpose was to change the priority date of 31-00055 so as not to adversely affect the other E. Camas Cr. waterusers, and to change the point of diversion to Little Ching Cr. to allow them to irrigate the east portion of their property. Both of these transfer applications were voided.

The application for transfer # 4372 was resubmitted 7/23/98 to clarify existing p/d, the p/u for the E. Camas water and to advance the priority date so as not to adversely affect his neighbors. The transfer was approved 9/19/99 subject to the agreement dated 5/15/96 entitled "Water Right Transfer #4372 Agreement". The agreement incorporates by reference a letter dated 11/23/94 from Harold Jones to IDWR. The agreement states, among many things, that the balance of the water from the E. Camas water right in the amount of 1.3 cfs be delivered under the Interim Order, that the applicant amend his SRBA claims to reflect the agreement, and that the agreement not constitute a waiver by the protestants of the balance of water from E. Camas Cr. under 31-00053, 31-00054, and 31-00055. Further, the agreement states the protestants are not required in any way to recognize the validity of this water right simply because they agree to the transfer of parts of decreed water right 31-0055 and 31-0054 to Little Ching Cr. All protests to this transfer were withdrawn. Below is a description of the rights affected by transfer #4372.

Decree [Sauve v Abbott]

Decreed elements

#	Q	p/date	source
31-0053	.4 cfs	5/1/1896	Camas
no p/d specified

31-0055	3.2 cfs	8/8/1893	Camas

Transfer #4372 changes source, p/d, p/u

Elements after transfer

Date	#	Q	p/date	source	acres =
7/23/98	31-00053B	.3 cfs	5/1/1896	Little Ching	55
[rt was split into A & B. A= 1.0 cfs –not part of transfer]

	31-00055B	1.0 cfs	5/1/1896	Little Ching
[rt. was split into A&B. A=2.2 – see transfer #5308]

Transfer #5308 was also filed 7/23/98 to clarify diversion points. The reason was because his predecessors made an accomplished transfer prior to 1987 which established 2 points of diversion on Little Warm Cr. He also wanted to add Little Ching Cr. as a source. The transfer was also approved 9/19/99 and was made contingent upon the Water Right Transfer #4372 Agreement. Below is a description of the water rights affected by this transfer.

Transfer #5308 changes p/u, p/d, source

acres = 85

Disputes & Legal Issues

The following are issues that have been raised by K/B/H in the past. I am not sure if these are all a part of the current dispute.

Source – E. Camas Cr. But Hamilton/Siddoway want to divert this water to or across Warm Cr. Decreed source is Camas Cr, not E Camas Cr.

Point of diversion – controlled by Knotwell/Bennett/Hirschi but this is not the authorized p/d. K/B/H gave H/S permissive use

Acreage allowed to be irrigated have historically irrigated 70-80 acres

Validity of the Hamilton/Siddoway water rights – were rts. forfeited before 81 purchase

Amount – decreed amt is > .02 cfs, so H/S are using more than .02 cfs

Questions

Answers to the following will fill in some of the factual gaps. # 1 is especially important.

- 1- Are K/B/H now revisiting the transfers that were approved and to which they withdrew their protests, or to the remaining portions of the S/H rights not a part of the transfers? The remaining portions: 31-00053A = 1.0 cfs; 31-00054A = .25 cfs – owned by Hamiltons?; 31-00055C = .8 cfs. The terms and conditions of the transfers state that the approval of the transfers do not preclude the opportunity for review of the validity of the water rights in the SRBA.
- 2- Has Siddoway amended claims as required by the agreement? Are they adhering to agreement?
- 3- Re forfeiture/abandonment – what is pattern of historical use on Siddoway property both prior to and since their purchase? What is IDWR policy re resumption of use? If IDWR considers the claim and the water use as it exists at the outset of the SRBA, does historical nonuse prior to the 81-purchase matter?
- 4- was lateral ditch manager appointed?
- 5- who owns p/d and ditch? Is this still an issue? There is a letter from Norm to Shenton dated 4/1/91 that states the IDWR does not have the authority to determine ditch use rights.

Documents needed

- 1 - delivery records prior to Hamilton/Siddoway's purchase of the property in 81?
- 2 - claims files w/gis maps
