COMMENTS: Jan, and here are some more:

A55-12822(5501680523) Location corrected and source and trib corrected

A51-12710(5101780816) You betcha, it is pipeline and trough system stemming from a well. Did that make sense.

5501688021 There is no record of a IDWR number for these two claims
This leads me to believe that these were going to be added claims, but were subsequently found to be bad claims.

5501688234

A55-07273(5501588426) An experienced range management person located this project where the BLM has it located. He found the licensed location to be incorrect.

→ ²⁴
A55-07247(5501588427) According to the field verification and water rights coordinator for that area, no project was found in that location.

A55-07167(5501588341) " "

A51-12711(5101780817) Withdrawn due to POD being in Nevada

The other outstanding claim is 61-10925(6101680061) and 55-11918 are being investigated thoroughly, and I'll get it to you in the morning along with the wildlife claims, and the three

PWR problem claims. And that I do believe should wrap us up. I know there are three stream claims still at the field office but if they aren't here in the morning I'll take care of them myself. Hopefully I haven't left anything out. Wow, what a day of research.

Thanks, Walt

Subj: THOSE QUESTIONS

Here are the ones I said I would send you today - finally.

A51-12711 (5101780817) - This one has a diversion that appears to originate in Nevada. I can't find Jim Bob Creek anywhere in Idaho using the pou's as a reference. The pou's in Idaho don't appear to be on a stream - maybe there is a pump or something and troughs? Anyway, if the diversion is in Nevada we can't recommend this one in the SRBA. Points of diversion outside the state, even where the pou is inside, aren't a go. Would you check this one out and let me know?

A51-12710 (5101780816) - This one is for Buck Flat well. It lists places of use over 4 twps. The description of diversion works states instream stock. I would just like to be sure that the pous are accurate because we won't be able to check out each trough and with a description of diverting works stating instream it doesn't make sense. Is this a pump, pipeline and trough situation over 4 twps?

Here is a list of claims that BLM has withdrawn and there are remaining overlapping claims filed by private owners:

A55-07167 (5501588341) - Original claim filed by BLM filed in same 1/41/4 as licensed. Withdrawn due to no beneficial use. Overlapping claim filed on same license by private individual, however, the 1/41/4 was listed as NWNE, S34, T6S, R5W. Question could be whether the 1/41/4 on license was wrong to begin with and that's why there was no development? Or is there no development at all.

A55-07274 (5501588427) - Original claim filed by BLM filed in a different 1/41/4 than licensed. Overlapping claim filed on same license by private individual, however, they filed on the 1/41/4 that was licensed. If BLM withdrew because of no development in the 1/41/4 they claimed could it be that there is a development in the licensed 1/41/4 instead?

A55-07273 (5501588426) - BLM did not withdraw this one, however, the BLM claim differs from the license and the private individuals differs from both. License issued for the SENE, S27, BLM claimed SWNWNW, S26 and private individual claimed NENE, S27. Can you verify which 1/41/4 is for sure correct for me?

Last of all - could you tell me what the IDWR number is for these two BLM ID numbers - 5501688021 & 5501688234. For some reason they were on the drop list without IDWR numbers attached. Just want to make sure they got dropped.

Thanks again - Jan.

RE: NUMBER CHANGE

This claim was originally assigned a "whole" number prior to the BLM claims being submitted. When the Dept. received the BLM claims and they had the identical numbers on them, a number change was done on the private claims, adding a suffix to the original number.
