Subject: CLAIMS

COMMENTS:JAN, Ok, here is a long reply to the June 16 and June 4 stuff. The claims that we wanted restored (5101680094, 6101780157, 6101788036, 6101688140) are correct. For some reason, they were accidentally dropped.

The new claim, 5101780829 should be an undeveloped spring in the source. We will need an IDWR number for that claim because it is a new claim.

The next item on the agenda was a bunch of 61 numbers. They were: 61-02302(6101788049), 61-02277(6101788024), 61-11569/11570(6101780168), and 61-11571(6101780169). 02277 and 11571 should be withdrawn, as they are duplicate claims. 11569/70 is the JX claim and 02302 is the license. I hope that makes sense.

There is still a question in the air for Fred on 61-11621(6101780444). I'm still questioning what the source on this really is. I'll get back to you as soon as I know.

The new numbers for the beneficial use claims are OK. The old numbers were 55-07227 and 07322. The new ones are 55-13644 and 13655.

The four problems from June 4 are as follows:

- 51-12131(5101780251) no longer shows wildlife.
- 51-12280(5101780386) no longer shows wildlife.
- 51-10581(5101680117) has volume instead of diversion rate
- 51-10487(5101680123) has volume instead of diversion rate.

So, hopefully the only one not up to snuff is 6101780444. The rest have all the new claim sheets attached to this fax. Enjoy!

Hi Walt. Here's some more confusing ones. There were some claims that you brought in Monday the 9th that you wanted to add to this reporting area. In looking at them it appears they were originally dropped. These numbers are 5101680094, 6101780157, 6101788036 & 6101688140. The drop were from the filings in 1997 - do you still want to add them back in? Just thought I'd check.

Want to add back in

There was also in that group one with no original claim number with a BLM # of 5101780829, that had an unnamed stream as the source and undeveloped spring as the diversion means. Should I list unnamed stream or spring as the source on that one?

spring

I'll list this next bunch:

A61-02302 (6101788049)OK
A61-02277 (6101788024)-W
A61-11569 (6101780168)
A61-11570 (")OK
A61-11571 (6101780169)-W

All of these are claimed for a Spring trib. to Ryegrass Creek with the same point of diversion and same place of use. We will likely recommend one license and one beneficial use claim and disallow the rest. Is there a reason why these are all claimed this way? Could it be they are different springs? They are all in the same 10 acre parcel.

A61-11621 (6101780444) - Claimed for Blair Trail Farms Irrigation Ditch for instream stockwater. However, we do not list ditches for instream uses. Would you want to change the source to something else?

still holding

Last of all - For the new beneficial use claims submitted on the lapsed permit claims A55-07227 (5501588384) and A55-07322 (5501588474) I ended up assigning new numbers to those beneficial use claims. Those numbers are for A55-07227 it will be A55-13664 and for A55-07322 it will be A55-13665. We will actually leave A55-07227 & 07322 in the report as disallowed due to a lapsed permit (since we received two claims on those anyway) and will then recommend A55-13664 & A55-13665 as beneficial use claims. Just for your information.

I know this is a long one - I saved a bunch of questions and thought I'd send them all at once. Thanks, Jan.
