NOTES: 01/31/1995 ; Based on the OQ, this parcel may have received storage water (MHID?) at one time. The ditches on the east side appear to be contiguous with the parcel to the North. The NAPP does not show this ditch line. The NAPP shows a parcel larger than 5 acres being IRRIGated, although Not very intensely. No distinct 5 acre parcel is visible. Application 61-07601 is for 13 acres, but it appears that more than 18 total acres are being IRRIGated in the ¼ ¼. No complaint from the neighbors has been received by IDWR. Field exam ~~(05/28/1974)~~ (05/28/1974) found 18 TOTAL acres. (The difference of 13 acres is the basis of appl. 61-07601, & ~~should also~~ 5q those acres can be claimed as an expansion of this license. ~~Additional acres (beyond 10 ##) would require a second expansion claim unless claimant wanted to take JUNIOR priority date for all acres (possibly 30 TOTAL).~~ Drive-by on 05/18/1993 was inconclusive but it did Not appear that the entire parcel was being IRRIGated at that time.

NOTES: 01/31/1995: System capacity was measured 05/28/1974 @ .17 CFS. This will limit the expansion claim to 17 acres (OUT of 18 found). Additional expansion claim must include evidence that system capacity has been upgraded, and the date of that upgrade.

After discussion, the expansion will be limited to .10 CFS, the amt of the license. This would allow for 5 more acres. If expansion claims are allowed, and if the particular expansion claim is not protested, the claimant would have a total of 10 acres. The application for 13 acres could be considered for 13 additional acres. No action yet, as expansion statutes have not been RULED on by the COURT. Application CONTINUES to be on HOLD because it is located in Mtn Home Ground H_2O Mgt Area.

Dear Karen:

After our telephone conversation of Wednesday, September 11, I was able to locate your water right files and determine their status. As I recall, you were unsure about the total number of acres which are covered under licenses, as well as how to maintain your water rights when your well is not producing enough water.

License 61-07046, priority 2-23-1970, is for 5 acres irrigation in NWNE Sec 11. The application for that license is also for only 5 acres; the additional acreage you spoke of was never permitted and thus never licensed. This water right was also filed in the Snake River Basin Adjudication (SRBA) in 1989 and assigned claim no. A61-07046.

SRBA claim no. A61-10112 is for domestic and stockwater use from your well. It also has a priority of 2-23-1970, based on beneficial use of the water.

Application for permit no. 61-07601 is for the additional 13 acres not covered by your license. It was filed on 10-26-89, the same day your adjudication claims were filed. At this time, there has been no action on this application because your property is situated within the Mountain Home Ground Water Management Area (GWMA). I have enclosed a copy of a letter you received from this office in November of 1989 explaining conditions surrounding a GWMA.

Since a domestic and stockwater use is exempt from mandatory filing requirements, your domestic claim can be filed in SRBA based on beneficial use of water and assigned a priority date equivalent to the first day of actual use. License 61-07046 is a verified use of water so claim A61-07046 mirrors the license. However, because the additional 13 acres were not included in the licensing process in 1970, they are considered a new use of water. All new appropriations of groundwater after March 25, 1963, other than for domestic and stock uses, require a permit. Therefore, even if the 13 acres have been irrigated since 1970, they must be covered under permit to be considered a valid appropriation. As you may have realized, your application cannot be approved and elevated to permit status unless the ground water moratorium is lifted in your area.

Unfortunately, many people mistakenly believe that a well driller or real estate agent will take care of their water right filings. It is the responsibility of the water user to ensure that filings are up to date. You were correctly advised at the time of your adjudication filing, to file an application for permit for the missed 13 acres; until that permit is approved, however, any diversion of water for this beneficial use is not allowed. In the event the ground water moratorium is ever lifted, all backlogged applications will be processed in the order received.

Last, I would like to address the issue of forfeiture of a water right. Any water right may be forfeited after a consecutive 5-year period of non-use. One irrigation season every five years will maintain an irrigation water right, as long as actual beneficial use has occurred.

If there is any question of forfeiture upon examination, for example, if the examination falls within a non-irrigation year, the burden falls on the water user to prove that beneficial use has occurred within the previous five-year period. Unavailability or shortage of water does not grant any immunity, as the water right license does not guarantee availability of water, only the right to use the resource. If your well is not producing as much as in previous years, you may have to re-drill or otherwise modify your system in order to carry out irrigation practices.

I hope this has helped answer your questions. Please call if you have additional concerns.

Sincerely,

Cindy Hodges

RE: Mrs Schweikert Said when they turned on the irrigation pump this year, it pumped their well dry. She wanted to know how she could maintain her water rights without water. She then went on to State that the pump was used once every five years just to maintain or "keep up" the water Rights. Another concern was a 15 acre parcel not licensed with the rest of her land, but that supposedly IS being irrigated

As the situation Sounded like a Speculature use, I researched her water rights & claims — Results are Presented in my attached correspondance, and in copies of application, Proof filing & field report in file 7046.
