AFFIDAVIT

WATER RIGHT CLAIM 78-4308 spring

BACKGROUND

The spring is located in a 160 acre parcel that was homesteaded in 1884 by Elizabeth Wilson and patented in 1896. In 1901 ownership was transferred to her brother, John Wilson. In 1930, John Wilson sold the property to his son, Henry Wilson. Henry and his wife May, had two children, Alice and Edward (deceased). Alice grew up on the ranch and continues to live there today and has personal knowledge of the spring and the beneficial uses.

STATEMENT BY ALICE WILSON PANGMAN

I was born October 11, 1939 to Henry and May Wilson and was raised on their ranch at 3684 Cemetery Road near New Meadows, Idaho. During those years my Dad ran a small dairy operation and raised beef cattle. He used the area around the spring for growing hay and cattle pasture after the hay was removed. I was aware of the spring from an early age and at age 13 (1953) my Dad began taking me out on the haying operation where I would drink from the spring he had developed and maintained for drinking water, stock water in the Fall and some irrigation from a short collection ditch he had constructed. He retired from dairy farming in 1956 and the ranch was rented to the neighboring Dryden family for cattle grazing. Dean Dryden manages the cattle grazing today and maintains a short ditch that is used to collect and distribute water from the spring area for irrigation and stock water.

It would be my opinion that beneficial use of the spring began during the homestead procedure in 1884 or by 1930 when Henry Wilson purchased the ranch and developed the spring of which I have personal knowledge.
