1987 NAPP photography doesn't show strong signs of irrigation.

1998 Terraserver photography doesn't show signs of irrigation.

Claimant is no longer the owner and the new owner hasn't filed a Change of Ownership despite two separate requests.

Claim filed 4/23/1990.

However, based on the fact that during the field exam I saw two different tarp Dams and a cement culvert in the ditch, I am going to recommend that the claim has probably been used at some time after 1985 or the tarps would have probably weathered by now. However, I don't have solid proof that the water was put to beneficial use on the property at least once since 4/23/1985.
