

WR: 29-00604A

POU

FE: 3/4/03

Looking North at the East portion of Ron Karlson's Field/claimed POU. In this picture you can see that flood irrigation might have made it through ditches into the low spot below the basalt rocks in the background of the picture, but could not have made it over the hump to the West side of Karlson's property from her at least.

WR: 29-00604A

Ditch

FE: 3/4/03

Looking West. Standing South of W. Portneuf Rd. Standing in what Scott Wells said was a historical ditch that used to carry Indian Creek water north to the claimed POU.

WR: 29-00604A

Ditch

FE: 3/4/03

Looking North at an old ditch that carried water to Ron Karlson's property and portions of Scott Wells property.

WR: 29-00604A

Ditch

FE: 3/4/03

Looking North at an old ditch that carried water to Ron Karlson's property and portions of Scott Wells property.

WR: 29-00604A

Ditch

FE: 3/4/03

Looking North while standing at the fence that separates Karlson and Wells property. Looking at what is now the main channel/ditch that carries water across Karlson's property.

WR: 29-00604A

Ditch

FE: 3/4/03

Looking South while standing at the fence that separates Karlson and Wells property. Looking at what is now the main channel/ditch that carries water across Well's and Karlson's property to the RR tracks next to the Portneuf.

WR: 29-00604A

POD

FE: 3/4/03

Looking North at where the pump is set to divert water to the claimed POU south of the W. Portneuf RD. This is the main channel of Indian Creek.

WR: 29-00604A

POU

FE: 3/4/03

Looking North at the East portion of Ron Karlson's Field/claimed POU. In this picture you can see that flood irrigation might have made it through ditches into the low spot below the basalt rocks in the background of the picture, but could not have made it over the hump to the West side of Karlson's property from her at least.

WR: 29-00604A

Ditch

FE: 3/4/03

Looking West. Standing South of W. Portneuf Rd. Standing in what Scott Wells said was a historical ditch that used to carry Indian Creek water north to the claimed POU.

WR: 29-00604A

Ditch

FE: 3/4/03

Looking North at an old ditch that carried water to Ron Karlson's property and portions of Scott Wells property.