Re: Phone conversation with Gary Jensen

Today I spoke with Gary Jensen, the representative of the Melville Jensen Trust, on the telephone. He confirmed what Mr. LaMar Rupp had told me regarding the four-way joint ownership of the farm and water rights, and the difficulty with the county records. He also suggested that the farm might soon be divided into an east and west portion, perhaps with the interstate as the dividing line. The intent would be to divide the distribution systems, with the west well handling the west parcel and the east well, the east parcel. He believes both wells have adequate capacity to handle that division.

Gary confirmed what I had assumed from the claim filing, that the systems are currently connected by a common mainline. He will review and consider the PPU concept, prior to the division of the land.

In a few weeks he will be in Idaho to meet with Rupps and the attorneys, and will make an appointment to come work with me on how these claims should best be structured.
