RE: telecon with Cory Lamb, claimant

Cory contacted me this day about his claim being disallowed in the 2005 late claims director's report. Checking the file I found we did receive an affidavit from long time resident Marjorie Strawn saying the water had been used since 1942. However, the affidavit does not say how Marjorie knows the water has been used since then.

I called Cory back and explained to him that he will have to file an objection to the recommendation. Cory explained that his grandparents owned the property in the 1930s and operated a dairy. I suggested he do some records research to hopefully locate information supporting the use of Cusick Creek on his property.

I also indicated we would mail him an objection form.
