Field Exam – Met with Paul Miller

Historically flood irrigated. Saw old ditch west of property – upstream. Based on elevation of old ditch and old POD as described by Paul, it would be possible to flood irrigate the property.

Pual says he remembers flood irrigation from when he was a kid and his grandfather ran the farm. However Paul did admit that ditch water probably didn't reach the top of the peak to the South West.

High portions that flood irrigation could not reach apparently were not claimed.

Irrigation practice now is hoses and sprinklers. Pump is put into a dammed portion of the creek. POD Verified by having claimant indicate location on map. POD is mobile dam that isn't in place now. Pump is not working so it isn't in place this summer.
