Information regarding the irrigation from springs on the Muldoon Creek Ranch.

During the time that my husband and I were dating and first married in the early 1960's, we spent much of our time at the Muldoon Ranch with my Uncle Bob Baptie helping with the ranch. One of the jobs was the irrigation of fields and meadows. We would always check and make sure the ditches were clear for the springs to flow and irrigate the meadows. This was of great importance for the pasture grass below and around the springs. We believe that the springs have always played an important part in the irrigation of the meadows however; our first recognition of the irrigation was in 1962 to present time. We purchased the ranch from my uncle in 1977 and have always maintained the irrigation from all of the springs on the ranch.
