Re: Notice of Claim to a Water Right in the name of Grand Teton Canal Co.

Dear Ladies and Gentlemen:

Enclosed with this letter are three (3) Notices of Claim to Water Rights on behalf of Grand Teton Canal Company, together with the company's check in the amount of $7,740.00 for the filing fee. This appears to have been computed on the basis of 7,440 acres plus a $50.00 filing fee for each claim, plus a $50.00 late fee for each claim.

As you are aware, most of the water distributed through the Grand Teton Canal Company canal delivery system is diverted in the State of Wyoming and for many years company officers were advised by IDWR officials that SRBA claims could not be filed because of this fact. We understand that policy changed some time ago and so the company has been involved in the straightening out of its affairs in order to file these claims. A portion of the company lands was placed under a pipeline system many years ago which entailed a new diversion and delivery system for those lands. It has taken a great deal of effort to finally sever the relationship with the owners of the former lands, but we think that has now been completed and that that entity will be acting on its own behalf as the Grand Teton Pipeline Association or some similar title.
