- ☐ This water right was not recommended, but should be recommended with the elements described above.

E. REASONS SUPPORTING OBJECTION(S):

First, the United States does not possess a federal reserved water right for the secondary uses claimed. The U.S. Supreme Court addressed in United States v. New Mexico, 438 U.S. 696, 98 S.Ct. 3012, 57 L.Ed.2d 1052 (1978), the scope of the federal reserved water right created when the United States withdraws land from the public domain and reserves it for a National Forest. The Court stated:

Each time this Court has applied the ‘implied-reservation-of-water doctrine,’ it has carefully examined both the asserted water right and the specific purposes for which the land was reserved, and concluded that without the water the purposes of the reservation would be entirely defeated.

438 U.S. at 700; 98 S.Ct. at 3014; 57 L.Ed.2d at 1057 (Footnote omitted). The Court further stated:

The legislative debates surrounding the Organic Administration Act of 1897 and its predecessor bills demonstrate that Congress intended national forests to be reserved for only two purposes—‘[t]o conserve the water flows, and to furnish a continuous supply of timber for the people.’ . . . National forests were not to be reserved for aesthetic, environmental, recreational, or wildlife-preservation purposes.

438 U.S. at 707-708; 98 S.Ct. at 3017-3018; 57 L.Ed.2d at 1061-1062 (Footnote and citations omitted). The use of irrigation water as described in the notice of claim is not within the scope of the reserved water rights doctrine as applied to the lands administered by the U.S. Forest Service.

Second, the point of diversion claimed is not located within the withdrawal at issue. The Notice of Claim for this administrative site, described therein as “Buck Park GS,” defines the point of diversion as T17N R3W S30 NESE. Public Land Order 1374, however, designated Buck Park Administrative Site at T17N R3W S30 SENE. A true and certified copy of Public Land Order 1374 is lodged with this objection as Idaho Exhibit 1. The Master Title Plat and the Historical Indices for T17N R3W BM depict the geographic location of the Buck Park Administrative Site; both describe the Buck Park Administrative Site as being located at T17N R3W S30 SENE. True and correct copies of the Master Title Plat and the Historical Indices for T17N R3W BM are lodged with this objection as Idaho Exhibit 2 and 3, respectively.
