To Whom It May Concern:

Enclosed please find an Affidavit of Arnell Jepsen who indicates that the land that is the subject matter of the claim in the above-entitled matter was farmed by him in 1983 and it was irrigated and watered out of a well owned by Leon Manning which was formally referred to as the Hardin well. This well is currently known as the Larsen family well which is located approximately a quarter of a mile away from the property from the land in question.

If the Petitioner is allowed to establish a water right, he would be willing to divert the right from the Larsen well to a well that is currently on his property and adjoining land which is only approximately 75 yards from the land in question. Alternatively, the Claimant would be willing to drill a well on his own property if allowed to divert from the original source.

DATED this 25th day of May, 2004.

TO WHO IT MAY CONCERN:

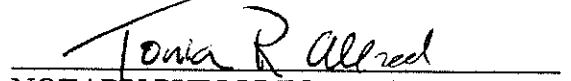

I, Arenll Jepsen farmed the Black Angus ranch in Blackrock during the summer of 1983. During that summer I irrigated from the well on the property owned by Leon Manning. The property had formerly been owed by the Hardins. Mr. Hardin had died and the Mannings had bought the place from Mrs. Hardin. I sprinkled the entire place from the road to the east. I have talked to Logan Robinson about the piece of ground that he presently owns. That property was at that time a part of the Black Angus ranch and I sprinkled that property that year in 1983 and took hay off that property. I sprinkled that property from a main line that came out of the Hardin well. The property where the Hardin well was located is now owned by the Larsen family and is known as the Larsen well.
