Participants: One hundred and twenty students of two business schools participated. Fifty-four females and twenty-seven males, ranging in age from 18 to 30 years, took part in the study. All students were students of the business school at the University of Hull, UK. The students were given a briefing about the study and then asked to complete the questionnaire. The questionnaire was administered by the researchers.

Measures: The questionnaire was administered in two parts. The first part was a demographic questionnaire. The second part was a questionnaire about the students' attitudes towards the use of technology in the workplace. The questionnaire was administered by the researchers.

Results: The results of the questionnaire are presented in Table 1. The results show that the majority of students (70%) were female and 30% were male. The majority of students (70%) were aged between 18 and 25 years and 30% were aged between 26 and 30 years. The majority of students (70%) were students of the business school at the University of Hull and 30% were students of the business school at the University of York.
