Dear Sirs:

In regard to the late claim on a pond being reviewed may I explain. ur foothills here by our houses on the edge of the forest are all swamp and springs. We have permission from the Corp of Engineers to re-dig the pond back to its original forum.

It was probably built in the late 1930's. We acquired the property into our family about 1942 as the affidavits we sent to you stated the children swam and floated canoes and rafts on it in about 1944.

My husband acquired it from his father about 1956 we stopped using the water to irrigate and a sprinkler system was put in therefore had no use for it except artistic and wildlife habitat. We have moose here all the time and they used it till it became so overgrown with silt and brush.

In the 1950's beaver built the damn in the middle and between the muskrats and the ground squirrels burrowing through the dike. The water drained out and took out over the lower part of our pasture.

We hope to dig it out and create an island in the middle for a nesting place for the ducks in the area as well as beautify the land.

This has not been done before because of the lack of time and funds.

My husband, Vernal Parsons, died six years ago and I have given the property to two of our sons Charles and Russell. Russell now works with construction people with equipment to do the work.

We have no use for the water except to collect it into a pond then it will flow on down to the river as it does now except for the ditch and the flow being improved.

Please approve this as we only trying to improve the water flow and property thank you.

Sincerely,

Ruby Parsons
Executor of Vernal Parsons Estate

A Story About A Pond

What I remember of the pond in Victor on the Parsons' Farm. I came to Victor with my sister Wanda and her husband Elwin Taylor, in the spring of 1944. When they bought the place the pond was the high light of the place, to me. I was 18 years old and on November 11, 1944 I was drafted, went to boot camp in Texas and left for Italy on the USS America on my 19th birthday 29th March 1945. I never forgot the pond and when my dad sent a letter saying Elwin and Wanda wanted to sell out and come back to Utah and he asked me if I wanted the farm. And I sent a letter back saying yes because I already had 80 acres in Victor. When I got back on August 1946 I moved to Victor.

The pond was the first place I visited. It covered about 1 acre in size more or less, that I remember. And a family of beaver had moved in. I cleaned out the ditch along the hillside. Then dad got a guy to push up a levee, so we could put a ditch to the top of the 40 acres to the North West. This was in 1947 and at that time I welded some 50 gallon barrels together to lay in the ditch across the levee. The levee was, where the road is now. I was in Victor from 1946-1953. Then in 1953 I left to return to Utah. Also in 1953 the pond was still full of water. In September of 2001 the pond had lost the water, to the muskrats. That was the last time I saw the pond.

I found out it was a full-time job keeping ahead of the muskrats until the beaver came in. I felt very bad to have lost my pond. I would love to see it returned to its original state and maybe even better?

To Whom It May Concern:

This letter is to verify that as a child I enjoyed swimming and wading in the pond on the property of Ruby Parsons located in Victor, Idaho. This would have been during the years of 1946 to 1951 when I was between seven and twelve years of age. We also used the pond to "cool" off whenever we had been working in the family garden or helping on the farm.

Sincerely,

Robert J. Parsons

I am the Granddaughter of Charles & Minnie Fay Parsons, they owned a large farm in Victor Idaho in the 1930's & 40's. My Uncle Vernal & his family lived on the farm from as long as I can remember. My mother at one time lived at the farm. Growing up in the City of Ogden, Utah we would travel to Victor, Idaho with our Grandmother Minnie Fay to visit relatives that lived on the farm in Idaho. Grandmother's favorite thing to do was to go down to the pond on the property to go fishing. We would spend hours swimming & fishing in that pond. Then one year when we came to Victor the local motel had built a swimming pool!!! The swimming pool in town is gone by now, from what I understand, Grandmas pond lives on.

I, Richard B Parsons, 51 South 900 West, Orem UT 84058 do hereby state that I lived in Victor, Idaho from 1944 to 1950. My father, Blaine C Parsons, owned and operated the Conoco Service Station that was located on the corner where the road from Swan Valley and Jackson intersected.

My grandparents lived in a farm house, what is now near the address of 1036 South 200 West in Victor. I drove a tractor during hay baling season on their farm. I also hiked in the mountains southwest of their farm and swam in the spring fed pond to the west of the farm house. I have many memories of playing and swimming in the pond and enjoying its cool water during the hot summers and after working in the fields.

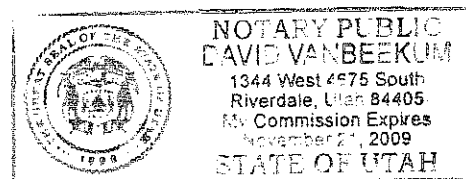

I attest that this statement is true.
