RE: Water Rights in Reporting Area 13, Basin 63
Snake River Basin Adjudication (SRBA)

Dear Water Right Claimant(s):

Please find enclosed the Idaho Department of Water Resources recommendations for your water right claim(s) in Basin 63 for the Boise River drainage basin above Lucky Peak dam. We have also enclosed instructions for reviewing (1) your recommended water right(s), and (2) other recommended right(s) in your area. Water rights for nearly all domestic and/or stockwater rights were recommended separately in an earlier report, and most of those now have been decreed by the SRBA Court.

Note that you have until January 31, 2003, in which to review your water rights or those of other claimants and to file any objection to our recommendations. Information on the other water rights can be found at the county courthouses in Boise, Fairfield, Idaho City, and Mountain Home, and at all the Idaho Department of Water Resources offices (see addresses in enclosures).

If the SRBA Court does not receive an objection to our recommendation from you and no other party objects to your water right, your water right will be decreed early next year as recommended. You will receive your decree from the SRBA Court.

Completion of the SRBA is important for the future of water management in Idaho. We invite you to contact our regional offices with any questions you have about your water right(s) or this adjudication process.

Sincerely,

Karl J. Dreher
Director

Dear Water Right Claimant:

To help you with your water right claim(s) in the Snake River Basin Adjudication, this letter of explanation is being sent to you along with information sent by the Idaho Department of Water Resources (IDWR). Included are the following important documents which I ask you to please read carefully because they give you the opportunity to save a great deal of time and money:

1. Preliminary Recommendation. This is IDWR's initial finding and conclusion about your water right and how it should be reported to the SRBA Court. This preliminary recommendation is not filed with the court, but is provided to you to help correct errors or resolve any disagreement you may have over its content. This document has been prepared following IDWR's investigation and may be different than the claim(s) you actually filed.

Therefore, please review this preliminary recommendation carefully to find any errors or disagreements you have with IDWR's findings.

2. Error Correction/Settlement Process. This preliminary recommendation is a special service provided to you by IDWR to help you correct errors and resolve any other disagreement you have before the actual recommendations are ultimately filed with the court.

A description of how to work with IDWR is included. Our experience in the SRBA shows that by working in cooperation with IDWR most errors and differences can be addressed before coming into court. It's well worth your time to take full advantage of IDWR's helpful service. If your disagreement cannot be resolved, you will be able to file an objection to IDWR's actual recommendation when it is filed in court and have the final decision made by the Presiding Judge.

This error correction service is an important opportunity for you to work together with IDWR to make sure your water right claim(s) are decreed accurately. There is no cost to you other than your time reviewing the preliminary recommendation and talking to IDWR about any problem you see. Of course, you may always employ the services of an attorney if you wish.

The goal of the SRBA is to see that your water right(s) are decreed by the court as accurately and fairly as possible. It is important to me that this is done efficiently in order to reduce your costs and present you with your decree.

I strongly encourage you to take full advantage of this opportunity to use the fine and courteous services provided by IDWR.

Sincerely yours,

Roger S. Burdick

Dear Water Right Claimant(s):

The Idaho Department of Water Resources (IDWR) has completed its initial investigation of your water right claim(s) in the Snake River Basin Adjudication (SRBA). We have enclosed a printout showing our preliminary recommendation for reporting your claim(s) to the SRBA District Court.

Please review the preliminary recommendation carefully. If there is any information on the printout you believe is inaccurate, please fill out the enclosed reply indicating what changes you believe should be made. Further instructions to assist you with the review are enclosed. For water rights with an irrigation water use, a Geographic Information System (GIS) computerized image of the place of use for your claim(s) is also enclosed.

You may return this reply in person to us at a public meeting IDWR will be conducting in your area. The meetings will be held on Tuesday, March 19, 2002, at 7:00 p.m. in the Mountain Home Senior Citizens Center, 1000 N. 3rd E., Mountain Home, Idaho and Thursday, March 21, 2002 at 7:00 p.m. in the Ray Robison Memorial Community Hall, 206 W. Commercial St., Idaho City, Idaho. Please come to the public meeting, where you will have an opportunity to find out more about the SRBA process and speak with a department staff member should you have questions regarding your water right claim. Please bring any and all information you have which will help the Department understand your claim(s) and describe them accurately.

This process is intended to ensure IDWR recommends your water right accurately to the SRBA District Court. This is the easiest and least costly means for you to identify corrections you believe should be made to our recommendation. Completion of this process is an important step toward the overall success of the adjudication in Idaho. Your participation is necessary so that accurate information is provided to the SRBA District Court.

We look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Karl J. Dreher

THE GOODRICH TRAIL

Following the general route of the gold rush which swept about 1,500 prospectors from Boise Basin to Rocky Bar Basin in the latter part of May 1863, the Goodrich Trail offered some improvements over the terrain covered by the original miners' route. The South Boise gold rush was described by H. O. Rogers in June 1863, as traversing "one continuous line of high mountains, rocky and steep" and penetrating "canyons deep and narrow." Soon, though, some fifteen miles of river canyon in the middle fork of the Boise were eliminated by the Goodrich Trail. Established after the country was better known, the latter crossed from Idaho City over a ridge separating Boise Basin on More's Creek from Barber Flat on the north fork of the Boise. Mounting another ridge between present Barber and Alexander Flats, the trail descended to Goodrich's ranch on the middle fork of the Boise. Here the Goodrich brothers kept a hotel, known variously as 24 Mile House or as the Middle Boise Hotel. Traffic over the Goodrich Trail generally spent the night at this halfway point; the trip required two days. Here in the summer of 1864, a weary traveler could obtain "for dinner some mush and milk and a cup of coffee. Charge $1.50; a drink of brandy, 50¢, and a cigar 50¢." (At this time, the Goodrich ranch had not been established; later, when the ranch came into production, conditions improved.) Next the trail crossed a ridge from the Goodrich ranch at Alexander Flat to Roaring River, and then went over a still higher ridge to the east, separating Rocky Bar Basin from the middle fork. From Idaho City to Rocky Bar, the trail ascended four high ridges in its fifty mile course.

Travelers on the Goodrich Trail really were impressed by the country through which they passed. Rasey Biven, who had traveled widely through the Colorado Rockies and the mountains of Mexico, California, and Hawaii, reported after a trip in August 1864, that the Goodrich Trail "cannot be excelled for wildness of scenery; the beautiful trout streams and the Middle and North Forks of the Boise river, which are all fordable in the summer months, their precipitous sides seemingly impassable to the traveler for either ascent or descent, covered with luxurious undergrowth and trees of magnificent proportions . . . almost perpendicular ascents of ridges, whose sides are bounded by ravines three thousand feet in depth--ridges bearing the name of 'Devil's Back' and similar appellations, suggestive of a certain feeling of insecurity, to be seen and felt in order to be fully appreciated--the narrow trail over which your horse carefully picks his way, seemingly as fully impressed as yourself with the magnificence as well as the toils and dangers of the journey." All of the grandeur of the country he had seen before, he added, even "our own delightful scenery of California . . . charmed me not half so well as the scenery on the South Boise Trail."

By August 1864, a toll franchise was granted for improving the trail and for building bridges across the north fork and the middle fork. The toll system aroused a great deal of resentment, though. Writing from Rocky Bar, July 1, 1865, Rasey Biven complained rather bitterly about the tolls, and was not too flattering in his description of the service to be obtained at the Middle Boise Hotel: "The younger Goodrich was at home with two drunken cooks on hand, a large number of miners, some going to the new discoveries at the Yuba, fourteen miles from this place [Rocky Bar], and to and from South Boise. Breakfasting at six o'clock, without the aid of any cook . . . we started at seven, packed our traps across the Middle Fork on a log and swam the animals. The North Fork is crossed on very good bridge, the owner of which receives toll for both rivers, whereas the Middle Fork you must cross the best you can, at risk of life of man and beast; and yet you are charged toll. Oregon, Washington, and Idaho Territories are famed for their toll-bridges and toll-gates; you travel for hours over hard and dangerous roads, and come to a patch of ground sufficiently level for the erection of a gate and a small cabin, where you pay toll and proceed 100 yards only to find a road similar to the one ridden over; but two or three times in the course of a day you will come to another 'clearing,' another cabin and gate, and by this means you are enabled to remember the level parts of the country."

Apparently fearing loss of business because of opposition to the tolls, the Goodrich brothers arranged to have tolls removed from the route after two years of dissatisfaction with the system. In a newspaper advertisement, June 1, 1866, they reported that "the proprietors of the Middle Boise Ranch inform their numerous friends that they have made such arrangements with Mr. Taylor that the South Boise trail and bridges are hereafter free of tolls. The bridges across both the North and Middle Boise rivers have just been put in excellent repair, and the trail to Rocky Bar is in good condition throughout for animals. The Middle Boise Hotel will be conducted on first-class principles during the season, and all the delicacies of this country, and most other countries, will be offered to their numerous guests. Trout, grouse, squabs, fresh salmon, &c., are among the choice viands upon their bill of fare. The grass upon the ranch is of now the richest variety and tall enough to mow. The journey from Idaho City to South Boise or Yuba is now only a pleasure trip, provided the traveler has a good animal. Our beds are comfortable, and the bar and table furnished with the best always."

Even removal of the tolls did not help for too long a time. In less than a decade, the Goodrich Trail fell into disuse as other routes replaced it. New trails to Idaho City (by the way of Banner) and to Boise directly down the Middle Fork, carried the traffic through that part of the country. The Goodrich brothers sold their ranch and left the region. But long after they had gone, the old miners' route to Rocky Bar, which crossed the Middle Fork of the Boise at their ranch, was still remembered as the old Goodrich Trail.

Water District No.

1. Name of applicant J. B. Taylor, 601 Capitol Blvd. (corner 200 Jefferson St.) Boise, Idaho

2. Source of water supply: Alexander Creek

3. Location of point of diversion: Is in the NE 1/4 and 120 in NW 1/4 of Section 9

T. 5 N. R. 8 E. County of Elmore

4. Describe works as they exist, giving dimensions and capacities of same. Two ditches lead from the stream as shown on map. One is for the west side of stream and other for the east. Creek has lots of fall and all that is necessary to get water is a small diversion. Ditches are approx. 12" w. in the bottom. There is a tank and filter unit that takes water from one ditch and delivers it to a faucet in the yard. Hay, garden, and berries constitute the crops at present. There is approx. 15 acres under irrig. at present. Parts of a high ditch coming in over the saddle still exist that watered an add. 8 to 10 acres. But in places it is entirely gone due to the erosion on the steep hillside. This has been used as a dude ranch and the base for pack strings.

5. Water is used for: Irrigation and domestic purposes. yes

6. State whether or not water has been turned into works of diversion.

7. List legal subdivisions of lands to be irrigated. If proof is for beneficial use, give exact number of acres under cultivation in each forty-acre tract. (Describe manner and purpose of use if other than irrigation):
