MEMORANDUM

TO: File A63-2249A

FROM: KAY WALKER Kay

RE: Claim and Point of Diversion

Date: May 9, 2006

While reviewing this claim for recommendation I found discrepancy between the actual signed, notarized claim and the data entry of the claim after it was submitted. It appears that claimant was assisted in preparing claim form on 12/26/1989, however, the claimant did not submit until 1/8/1990. On this claim form the point of diversion is listed as being located within the SWNW, S17, T4N, R4W, with a remark that states: "Lic. incorrectly describes p/d as SWNW, S16, 4N, 4W." The location in S17 would be the area that Guess Gulch is located. When claim was data entered, after receipt, the point of diversion was entered as being within SENESE, S16, T4N, R4W. There is no information in the file to show where this point of diversion description came from. In further review, I found that this is the point of diversion for drain water that is also on this property under Rt. 63-3080.

In review of the map prepared by field examiner in 1917, the diversion is shown as being in SWNW, S16, T4N, R4W, with a source of Guess Gulch. Pursuant to topographical map X4, the source is actually Dixie Gulch rather than Guess Gulch as licensed.

Claims 63-2249B and 63-2249C are also splits of the original license 63-2249. The claim for 63-2249B was filed as licensed. The claim for 63-2249C shows the source as Dixie Gulch with the licensed point of diversion.

I recommend that we use the licensed point of diversion for all 3 of these splits and the source of Dixie Gulch Creek. If this is determined to be in error the claimants can file notice of error and we can revise recommendations at that time.
