Subcases 37-~~404A~~ and 37-404A

AFFIDAVIT OF CHARLES LEE
BARRON

STATE OF IDAHO)

County of)

CAMAS

CHARLES LEE BARRON, being first duly sworn upon oath deposes and states as follows:

I am now and have been for 70 years a resident of Camas County, Idaho. I am familiar with the property in the Soldier Creek drainage, north of Fairfield, Idaho, where the Cottonwood Golf Course is now situated. The golf course was constructed by Lynn Stevenson in the mid, 1990's.

Prior to the construction of golf course, the property was flood irrigated with diversions of water from Soldier Creek and Owens Creek. The irrigation ditches are still there and visible on the property. I have depicted these ditches in color on the attached, 1992 aerial photograph. This system of ditches allowed all of the land down hill of the ditches to be irrigated. The cultivation of this land is very apparent in the photograph.

In Jan. 2008, I discussed this with Mr. Lynn ^{Van Skike} ~~Van Skike~~, now 91 years old and a resident of this part of Camas County for over 70 years. Mr. Van Skike confirmed that this is the method that was always used for irrigation of these lands prior to the construction of the golf course. He also confirmed that all of the lands shown as irrigated and cultivated in the attached photograph were historically irrigated.

DATED this 11th ^{June} ~~May~~ day of May, 2008.

Charles Lee Barron
