5. Description of existing diversion works (Dams, Reservoirs, Ditches, Wells, Pumps, Pipelines, Headgates, Etc), including the dates of any changes or enlargements in use, the dimensions of the diversion works as constructed and as enlarged and the depth of each well. A road was previously constructed (prior to 1960) to connect the residential area of the property with the back field. The road was built across a natural draw. During late fall rains and spring runoff water impounds against the up-gradient side of the road creating a seasonal pond. In order to protect the road from being washed-out during periods of runoff, a 12-inch pipe was installed beneath the road beto allow drainage. According to Mr. Schlechte, a previous owner (see attachmen 2), the road and seasonal pond were present when he purchased the property in 1960
