Year round stock water from Cottonwood Creek

This date I communicated with Deputy Attorney General Garrick Baxter who agreed with my interpretation that neither the Cauldwell v Anderson nor Iverson v Isaacson decrees on Cottonwood Creek supported the addition of year-round stock water uses on decreed rights, as claimed by several claimants in the SRBA.

RE: Snake River Basin Adjudication (SRBA)
Claim Nos.: 45-421, 45-441

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Mitton:

I have completed a review of your two claims on Cottonwood Creek filed in the Snake River Basin Adjudication. Enclosed please find a map of the property your water rights are appurtenant to. This map is based upon 1987 aerial photography, and indicates my interpretation of the extent of your use of water at the time of the commencement of the SRBA.

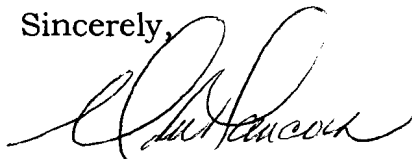

Also find enclosed drafts of your water rights as I plan to recommend them for decree to the SRBA Court. The number of acres and amount of water are as you claimed them except for slight changes in the number of acres recommended within each forty-acre tract. I found, and GPS'd, the point of diversion in October 2001, and discovered that it was actually located in the NESW of Section 17. I corrected the legal description from the SENW in your water right.

I have also changed the season of use of both your rights for irrigation to the IDWR standard of March 15 through November 15. I read both the 1892 Cauldwell -v- Anderson Decree and the 1905 Iverson -v- Isachson Decree and could find no place that indicated any of the rights were decreed for year-round use. If you have additional information, I would be happy to look at it. If you have historically diverted Cottonwood Creek outside of the irrigation season for stock water, you may wish to provide some evidence, and file an additional claim.

ST. 3/1/03

Please review the enclosed documents and let me know if there are corrections that need to be made, or if you have questions about any of the elements of the water rights as I have recommended them.

Sincerely,

RE: Recommendation of Claim No: 45-421 and 45-441

I visited the Cottonwood Creek area with Verl Okelberry, Water master, on October 25, 2001. Del Roy Mitton's two water rights 45-441 (1885) and 45-421 (1892) are appurtenant to property on the south/half of the south/half of section 9 lying between a ridgeline that runs roughly NW-SE and the road into Cottonwood Creek. The place of use was in pasture and was fenced for several horses. The irrigated acres extended nearly to the east fence line. Mitton's house was at the extreme west end of his property and the farm yard included the house, drive and parking areas, and several sheds where Mitton also raised some hogs, according to Mr. Okelberry. Directly behind the house there was a rise, on which Mitton was drilling a replacement domestic well for the house. Okelberry said that Mitton got very little water from Cottonwood Creek this year. The uppermost measurement flume for the cement ditch that conveys water to the Goose Creek area farms is just across the road from the Mitton's house.

Claims listed 80 acres in the POU

- 1962, 1968 and 1992 aerial photos confirm approx 80 acres developed.

POD gps'd on 10-25-2001

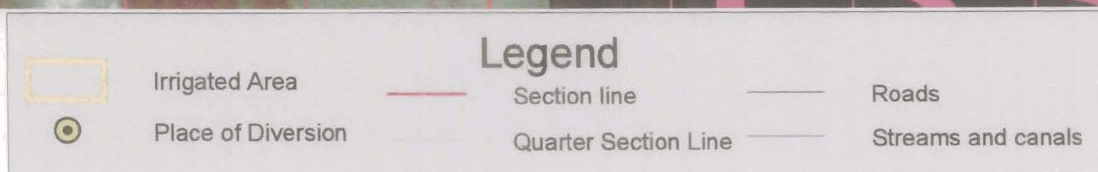

Both SRBA claims list a season of use of 1/1 to 12/31. Both claims list non-irrigation incidental uses for cattle hogs and horses, etc., but stockwater is not listed as a use.

- 45-441 decreed in 1882 specifies irrigation as use in body of decree, and is claimed for irrigation use in the SRBA, therefore season of use is 3/15 to 11/15
- 45-421 does not specify use but is claimed in the SRBA only for irrigation use therefore season is 3/15 to 11/15.

There is nothing in either decree that refers to year-round use. Mitton may base year-round use on a clause in the decree regarding the use of excess water by Isachson for any beneficial use (see file). Isachson's use was given no water right number, point of diversion or place of use but the judge did specify that the priority date for Isachson's right was May 1905, which is senior to Cranny's and Oakley Canal's rights. If Mitton wishes to file for Isachson's right and claim a beneficial use other than irrigation he would have to file an additional claim, show some proof that he is successor to Isachson, and some proof that the right has been delivered by the water master.

If Mr. Mitton wishes to assert a claim to year round stockwater, he would need to file an additional claim based upon beneficial use, as the 1892 decree specifically states water not used for irrigation is to be left in the stream, and the 1905 decree references the 1892 decree. But since the Mitton's POD from Cottonwood Creek is approximately a mile from his property, it is unlikely that he would be able to convey the small amount for use as stock water that distance outside of the irrigation season.

Rights 45-421 and 45-441 total 2.8 cfs for use on 80 acres. No combined limits are included in my recommendation as it is apparent that the 1905 decree awarded excess water to users above and beyond that previously decreed to them in 1892.

DECREE

Transfers Noted

This cause came duly on to be heard in open court on the 20th day of September, 1905, before the court without a jury; Messrs B. P. Howells and Hawley, Puckett and Hawley appearing as counsel for the plaintiffs, and A. H. Derbyshire, Esq., appearing for the defendant Norman Isachson and John C. Rogers, Esq. appearing for the other answering defendants;

Whereupon, on motion of counsel for the plaintiffs, this action was dismissed as against the defendants H. S. Hampton and Clarence Carson who had not been served with summons herein, and against Owen Carson who heretofore filed his disclaimer herein; and on motion of the counsel for the plaintiffs the default of defendants John A. Carson, Sr., John A. Carson, Jr., W. V. Carson, J. N. Rowley and J. H. Rorak, duly served with summons but who had failed to appear and answer was entered;

Whereupon all the parties hereto who have appeared and answered, filed their stipulation in writing, and in open court, as to the amount of the waters of said Cottonwood Creek to be decreed to each of said parties herein, without waiving any rights under former decrees of this court; and thereupon it was agreed in open court by all the parties hereto that the rights of the parties hereto herein determined should all date from April 12th, 1892, except the rights of defendant Norman Isachson which should date from May 13th, 1905.

Whereupon counsel for the respective parties in open court waived findings of fact and conclusions of laws and the court being fully informed in the premises,

It is now ordered, adjudged and decreed that the following parties to this action are entitled to divert from that certain stream situate in Cassia County, State of Idaho, called Cottonwood Creek, the amount of water, measured under a four inch pressure set opposite their respective names, to-wit:

45 0420 John Iverson, One Hundred (100) inches.
45 0421 Peter Anderson, One Hundred (100) inches.
45 0422 William Rivers, eighty-five (85) inches.

Poulton vs. Estate

All said amounts to date from April 12th, 1892, said amount of water herein decreed being in addition to the amounts heretofore and on the 12th day of April, 1892, decreed to the parties hereto and to their grantors and predecessors in interest, in this court in that certain action entitled A. V. Caldwell, Jr., et al, plaintiffs, vs. Peter Anderson, et al, defendants; the waters of said stream herein decreed being the surplus water thereof over and above the amounts decreed and distributed in said action.

And it being made to appear to the court that there is flowing in the said stream at periods of freshet a quantity of water in excess of the aggregate allotments of this and the said former decrees upon the said stream, it is hereby adjudged and decreed that the defendant Norman Isachson may take said excess over and above the allotments in said two decrees, and conserve the same in a reservoir or reservoirs, the same to be devoted to a useful and beneficial purpose, for irrigation of lands or otherwise.

It is further ordered, adjudged and decreed that in case of insufficiency of water to supply all parties, the entire volume of the water of said stream is to be devoted to and used by those appropriators who are first in time under the allotments of the said first decree.

(Price, Judge

It is further ordered, adjudged and decreed that the following named defendants whose default has been entered herein, be and they and each of them are hereby forever
