

NOTES

In as far back as 1968 I can remember this ground being irrigated by flood water. They would irrigate different sections of ground at different times of the summer, trying to cover as much as possible.

George Miller
11-21-10