RE: Date of Priority, Description of Diversion and Potential Use

Lori:

Enclosed is the form you mailed us. We regret that we did not send the paperwork earlier, as we misplaced your file. Having found it, we remit the corrections and additions as requested.

The number of animals served as livestock is not year-round, but intermittent. The diversion does not impact the stream flow in any way other than providing potential livestock the opportunity to have a developed water tank for this purpose.

Additionally, I intend to call soon for clarification as to the right that was assigned with the letter you had mailed and a follow-up conversation as to the paperwork that has been filed with your office for the remainder of the requests we have made.

Cordially,

A handwritten signature in blue ink, appearing to read 'Alfred Holden', followed by a long horizontal line.
