and says: "That each season during this period approximately 3 acre feet per second of time have been diverted from such sources to irrigate approximately 156 acres of said land."

That he is personally familiar with the ranch property owned and occupied by David W. Maxwell, located approximately 17 miles down river from Salmon, Idaho, in Latah County, being directly across from Fourth of July Creek, formerly known as the old Snyder place.

That he observed water from Napoleon Creek and the Salmon River applied to beneficial use for irrigation purposes on said ranch on the 1st day of May, 1910.

Your affiant also knows that water from said streams has been so applied to beneficial use on said ranch during the irrigation season from said date to the present time.

Further deposition sought not.
