Findings of Fact

Douglas Ward, P.O. Box 102, Almo, Idaho 83312, filed a Notice of Claim to a Water Right on August 18, 1989, claiming .04 cfs from groundwater for year-round stockwater use and to irrigate 32 acres in Cassia County from April 1 to October 31 with a priority date of June 15, 1961, based on a license. The Director of the Idaho Department of Water Resources filed his Director's Reports for Irrigation and Other, Reporting Area 7, IDWR Basin 43, Part I on September 28, 2001. The Director recommended the claim as filed.

Brent Jones filed an Objection on February 7, 2002, objecting to point of diversion. On August 14, 2002, Douglas Ward, Brent Jones and IDWR filed a Standard Form 5 agreeing to add a remark concerning lockable controlling works.

Conclusions of Law

Douglas Ward is entitled to a partial decree adjudicating a water right under claim 43-02532A as described in the Standard Form 5 and the attached Special Master Recommendation for Partial Decree for Water Right 43-02532A.

Re: Findings, decision and order of local ground water board for Cassia County, Idaho, dated December 5th, 1962.

Gentlemen:

I have been informed by Glen Jones and Edwin Durfee of Almo, Idaho, that you are presently in violation of an order of the Department of Reclamation of the State of Idaho. The order in question was dated the 5th day of December, 1962, and among other things ordered the capping or application of control devices upon an irrigation well contained by you and referred to therein.

Our office is informed no capping or control devices have been placed upon your well, which would be a clear violation of Clause VIII of the Board's order. Certainly, sufficient time since the entry of the order has been allowed for compliance with the same.

The claimants, Edwin R. Durfee and Glenn Jones have requested preparation and filing of a criminal complaint against you for your failure to comply, accordingly, I would appreciate your furnishing our office with proof of compliance within ten (10) days from the date of this letter and failing the same, we will have no alternative to prosecution in the matter.

Please advise.

Very truly yours,

e. Unconsolidated formations without significant clay beds. When a water well is drilled and acquires water from an aquifer which is overlain with unconsolidated formations, such as sand and gravel without significant beds of clay, an unperforated well casing shall extend to at least five (5) feet below the water table. If the water table is within eighteen (18) feet of land surface, unperforated well casing shall extend to at least eighteen (18) feet. (7-1-93)

f. Clay beds in unconsolidated formations. When a well is drilled to develop water from an aquifer that is overlain by unconsolidated deposits such as sand and gravel, and there are significant interbeds of clay above the water table, the well casing may be terminated in a clay bed which will prevent the downward or upward movement of water. Unperforated casing shall extend to and be driven into the clay stratum overlying the water-bearing zone. A minimum of eighteen (18) feet of casing shall be installed below land surface. A single casing may extend from land surface to the water-bearing zone, or a smaller diameter casing, perforated liner, or well screen may be installed below the seal depth. (7-1-93)

04. Artesian Water. When artesian water is encountered in the well, unperforated well casing shall extend into the confining stratum overlying the artesian zone. The casing shall be sealed into the confining stratum to prevent surface and subsurface leakage from the artesian zone. If the well flows at land surface, it shall be equipped with a control valve so that the flow can be completely stopped. If leaks occur around the well casing or adjacent to the well, the well shall be completed with seals, packers, casing or grout that will eliminate the leakage. The well driller shall not move his well drilling rig from the site until this has been accomplished. Some mixing of water may be required to develop an adequate water well; however, the mixing shall be restricted to water zones of similar pressure, temperature and quality. The Director may grant a waiver for good cause. The driller shall take precautions to case and seal out zones which may lead to waste or contamination. (7-1-93)

05. Artificial Gravel Pack Wells. If a well is to be artificially gravel packed, the casing shall be sealed using one of the two following methods: (7-1-93)

a. Access pipes used to inject gravel must be installed in the annular space prior to sealing the space with cement grout or puddling clay. Care should be taken to insure

NOTE TO FILE

Regarding: Claim numbers: 43-2532A, 43-2532D, 43-2532E

In response to objections to the above SRBA recommendations, and a possible resolution, I did some additional investigating into the historical record of these rights.

June 15 1961 application for permit was filed by Tracy, Ward and King for 7 cfs from a well in the SESE Section 22.

When the well was drilled it was artesian and flowed at a rate of 18 inches. A pump was put on the well to increase diversion capacity and in 1962 a protest was filed by Glen Jones and Edwin Durfee who claimed the diversion from the well affected their domestic well and springs.

Tracy, Ward and King were ordered to mitigate any continued injury to the senior water right holders and to cap or valve the flowing well.

Assignments of permit were signed in 1967 that specified that Tracy got the bulk of the water applied for in permit 43-2532 but that 1/3 of the produced flow of the well in SESE Section 22 was reserved by Ward, 1/3 by Tracy and 1/3 by King. Ward referred to his 1/3 production as 18".

In 1967 Tracy amended his portion of the permit to add an additional point of diversion in the NWNE Section 27 for irrigation on all his lands. The stated purpose was to increase diversion capacity to fill the permit.

In 1968 a field exam was conducted that found 6 inches (0.12 cfs) of water available at the flowing well in the SESE Section 22. The examiner allowed .04 cfs for irrigation and stockwater to each of Ward, King and Tracy for 43-2532A, 43-2532B and 43-2532D respectively. He measured 5.46 cfs at the well in the NWNE Section 27. Tracy received 5.4 cfs for irrigation on 43-2532C.

On January 6th 1969 Tracy amended his portion of the permit to list only the well in the NWNE Section 27 as the point of diversion. This does not seem to be reflected in licensed right 43-2532C, issued on January 30th 1969, which lists both wells as points of diversion. This could be an error on the part of IDWR.

In 1977, an approved transfer split right 43-2532C and moved 2.0 cfs from the Tracy property to the property of Arlo Lloyd in Elba, leaving Tracy the use of 3.4 cfs for use on 167 acres under his part of "C", now represented by 43-2532E, and the use of .04 cfs from the well in the SESE Section 22 represented by "D".

According to both Tracy and Ward, they receive their respective well water for stock and irrigation through Almo Creek after the well discharges into the stream channel in the SESE Section 22. Currently there does not appear to be an approved controlling or measuring device on the well. Mr Tracy stated on August 7, 2002 that the well water is not piped to his property.

Adjudication claims were filed on 43-2532A by Doug Ward and on 43-2532D and E by Bill Tracy. 43-2532B was not claimed. According to Cassia County Taxlot information, the majority of the property appurtenant to this portion of the license now belongs to Bill Tracy.

From: Vikie Hancock

Regarding: Claim number A43-02532A

This claim is based upon, and the elements agree with, license 43-02532A for irrigation and stockwater. Expansion claim A43-10602 was also filed to expand the acres irrigated by license 43-02532A with no increase in diversion rate.

After discussing these claims with Mr. Ward on December 10, 1999, it was determined that no expansion of acres occurred, but that his water usage would be accurately described by allowing him a permissible place of use limited to the irrigation of the original licensed number of acres within the irrigation season.

Conditions included in the original license include volume limitations specified for irrigation and for stockwater, and these will be included in my recommendation. No adjustment to the volume limitation for irrigation is needed as the licensed season of use matches the current IDWR standard.

Field Exam Notes

Field Exam Date: 12-10-99

Claim No: A43- 02542, A43-02532A, A43-10601, -10602

This field exam consisted of a meeting with the claimant at his home. There was no actual examination of the place of use or points of diversion. Notations were taken on the GIS print out to show the irrigation system and actual irrigated acres.

Claimant Douglas Ward uses groundwater from two wells and surface water supplied by Almo Water Company to irrigate most of his 320 acres. According to the claimant he irrigates the entire farm. We did not discuss the area immediately surrounding the homes, shed and equipment yard, which I observed was not irrigated.

Groundwater is diverted from a well located in the NWNW $\frac{1}{4}$ Section 25 to a sprinkler system that covers his higher ground. This well was licensed for 1.85 cfs and 277 acres. The place of use has changed somewhat from the POU as licensed because he now typically uses less water from this source in the N $\frac{1}{2}$ NW $\frac{1}{4}$ of section 25, and more water from this source in the NE $\frac{1}{4}$ and SENW $\frac{1}{4}$. Claimant agreed that the total acres irrigated from this well is probably still approximately 277 acres in an irrigation season, but that he changes the configuration of his sprinkler system depending on how much surface water is available from Almo Water Company.

Surface water delivered from Almo Water Company is used to flood the meadows along Almo Creek, which runs easterly through his farm. He also uses water from a well located in the SESE Section 22 to flood the lower ground in the NWNW $\frac{1}{4}$, and the meadows. This water is diverted from the well into Almo Creek, transported southeast in the Almo Creek channel, then re-diverted into a ditch in the NENE of section 26 just west of claimant's property line, and conveyed east to Claimant's POU. The use of water from this well is based upon a license for .04 cfs on 32 acres. Claimant says that this is still an artesian well that is not capped, and is allowed to run all year long. There are other water rights with Adjudication claims on this same well. Tracy Inc/ William Tracy holds all the other rights on the well except for a portion transferred to Arlo Lloyd in Elba. Tracy and Ward rotate the use of the entire flow of the well during the irrigation season. Both have claimed year round stockwater from the well, also.

Doug Ward sometimes incorporates water from the artesian well, as well as surface water delivered by Almo Water Company, into the sprinkler system. He typically does not use groundwater from the well in the NENE section 25 to flood irrigate. Mr. Ward filed expansion claims on both the licensed wells, claiming that the water from both wells were used to irrigate the entire 320 acres. After discussing his claims and water usage, he agreed that his intention was more likely described as a permissible place of use, with each right limited to the original licensed number of acres within the total 320 acres he irrigates. He felt that would give him the flexibility he needed to adjust his irrigation system when the available water from each source fluctuated year to year.
