E. REASONS SUPPORTING OBJECTION(S):

The United States of America, through the Bureau of Land Management, is the owner of the land upon which all points of diversion (PODs) are described. The location of all the PODs are inconsistent with BLMs records. BLM does not have any record of two (2) of the PODs. One existing well is not listed on the water right nor is it listed in BLM's records.

The plot is only a possible display of the Bureau of Land Management's (BLM) Record of Decision (ROD) for the proposed project. The ROD is a legal document that describes the proposed project and the impacts of the project on the environment. It also describes the measures that will be taken to avoid, minimize, and compensate for the impacts of the project. The ROD is a key document in the decision-making process for the project. It is important to note that the ROD is only a possible display and does not represent the final decision. The final decision will be made by the BLM after considering all the information available. The ROD is a complex document and it is not possible to summarize it fully. However, it is important to understand that the ROD is a key document in the decision-making process for the project.
