10. Remarks This is a modest, natural flow of water from neighboring land which is vacant. It crosses onto our land and passes through a culvert underneath our driveway. From there it flows slowly downhill into a low area where it becomes all boggy and disappears. Thus it's not really a tributary of anything because it goes back underground. There is a place where I could divert it around a gentle hillside and water some good pasture land. I claimed year-round usage because it flows year round, and once I divert it I'll just let it run.

11. Map of proposed project: show clearly the proposed point of diversion, place of use, section number, township and range number.
