This aerial photograph shows a property with several features. A large area of dense forest covers the upper and right portions of the image. A road or driveway runs diagonally from the middle left towards the bottom right. A green line, likely a boundary, runs horizontally across the top and then curves down the right side. A red line runs horizontally across the upper middle. A blue hatched area is located in the center, containing a building with a blue roof and some other structures. A yellow hatched area is located in the lower left, containing a pond. Two callout boxes with leader lines point to specific features: one points to a small blue dot in the blue hatched area, and the other points to the pond in the yellow hatched area. The bottom of the image shows a dark, possibly water-filled area.
