Ownership Change, resulted in split of right. During GIS update it was found, based on meta & bound, that original shape was located slightly wrong. I have corrected shape to keep the recommended 4 acres, even though it would indicated irrigation or previously not recommended acres.

Shape # 195 was assigned to "A" part & # 473 assigned to "B" part.

Owner change does NOT authorized another point of redirection. Both parts are diverted through pod-id # 106 from Challis Hgline. New Layouts created.

Memo From.....L.T. Stevenson

To Carey Skinner - 6 April '99 -

Enclosed is an application for a water right. I purchased 2 acres from Connolly - He had received a gift deed from his grandparents in 1998 and I don't think he had the water right transferred into his name. Patrick Connolly III has been living on the place for 8-10 years and has been irrigating. Patrick Connolly and his wife or both deceased (as I remember in the summer of '98).

I'm sending this to you as I know you will take care of the application - or place it where it will be taken care of.

Regards

J. T. Stevenson

MEMORANDUM

TO: 72-10471 Change of Ownership File (Connolly to Stevenson)
FROM: Corey Skinner CS
DATE: April 12, 1999
SUBJECT: Conversation with L.T. Stevenson

This day I spoke with L.T. Stevenson regarding the enclosed change of ownership form that he submitted for right/claim 72-10471. Examination of Department records reveals that two recent licenses (72-07473 and 72-07502) may also be associated with the property that Mr. Stevenson purchased. Both of these licenses are from the same well, with license 72-07473 being associated with stockwater use and license 72-07502 being associated with domestic use for two homes. Mr. Stevenson purchased a portion (apparently about 2.2 acres) of the Connolly property. Mr. Stevenson submitted the enclosed change of ownership form to change the ownership of a portion of right/claim 72-10471 (irrigation water out of Challis Creek) into his name. The change of ownership form also mentions "one home". Since I was not sure if this one home consisted of one of the homes associated with right 72-07502, I contacted Mr. Stevenson.

Mr. Stevenson said that the "one home" listed on his change of ownership form consisted of a new log home that he was building, and that there is another home and a trailer associated with the Connolly property (as described in the 72-07502 field exam). Mr. Stevenson said that the well is on the Connolly property. Therefore, the new home that Mr. Stevenson is building is a new development and not associated with the development licensed under 72-07502. I asked Mr. Stevenson about changing the stockwater license into his name, and he said that he was not interested. Therefore, it appears that Mr. Stevenson only obtained a portion of 72-10471, and that Mr. Connolly retained ownership of the rest of 72-10471 and the entire portions of licenses 72-07473 and 72-07502.
