Memo

From: Dan Narsavage

Regarding: 67-533 & 67-534 and their children (67-14100, -534C, -534B)

Date: January 24, 2006

The Problem:

67-534 B claimed portions of 67-533 and 67-534 on the west side of the creek. 67-533 & 534 were both decreed out of Webb Ditch (June 1881 priority date), which sits on the east bank of Mann Creek, and so without additional infrastructure, services only the east bank with gravity-fed irrigation. This memo will attempt to answer the question of whether or not 67-534 B can be recommended as claimed.

Observations:

I have observed that in a number of places along Mann Creek, water users have historically used siphons and/or flumes to carry irrigation water across the creek or other ditches. This is supported in many cases by the fact that the decree documented more irrigated acres than could be irrigated without such infrastructure in place.

This is the case here. 67-533 was decreed 35 acres of irrigation but there are fewer than 30 acres available for irrigation between Webb Ditch and Mann Creek in the described POU. 67-534 was decreed 66 acres, and there are only 60 acres between Webb Ditch and the creek in the described POU, some of which cannot be gravity irrigated due to terrain considerations. In both of these decreed rights, the legal description of the POU crosses the creek.

Conclusions:

Given the evidence of historical use of flumes to get irrigation water across the creek and the available decreed acreage, I can confidently recommend allowing this decreed water on the west side of the creek. The fact that 67-534 B claims the priority date associated with Webb Ditch, rather than Hannah Ditch, the claimed delivery ditch, further supports my conclusion.
