RE: Amended claims

Dear Jack & Betty:

Enclosed are several amended claim forms for your Bennett Creek water rights. These amended claims comply with your desire to use a permissible place of use so that all rights will be appurtenant to each acre of land. As we discussed during our previous meeting, this concept recognizes how the Bennett Creek water has been historically used on the ranch. Also, when the claims are split due to a split in ownership of the ranch, each acre will receive a prorated share of each claimed right.

You will note on the enclosed forms that the place of use describes the 510 acres historically irrigated with creek water and the two points of diversion historically used to divert water from Bennett Creek. When these claims are subsequently split, the points of diversion and place of use will be split to comply with the change of ownership of the land.

To complete the amended claims, one of you should sign the claim forms in front of a notary public. Please return the signed forms to my attention so that I can prepare our records prior to the change of ownership request that is forthcoming. There are no fees for filing these amended claims. If you have any questions or discussion concerning this matter please let me know.

Sincerely,

Mel Schulte
