RE: Snake River Basin Adjudication, Case No. 39356
Claimant: Gary Summers and Shannon Summers

Dear Mr. Carlsen:

I'm enclosing a copy of a protective claim to water right filed by the above claimant originally received by the Department of Water Resources on October 6, 1988. The appropriate fee of $265 was filed at that time as evidenced by the enclosed receipt no. E002959. The fee is based on an overlap of 235 acres with a separate claim previously filed by this claimant (receipt no. E005233), leaving 215 acres covered by the enclosed application. The claim was later reviewed by Harold W. Jones and returned to me December 23, 1988, for certain deficiencies indicated in the enclosed letter from Mr. Jones.

I hand delivered this protective claim along with the other claim by Gary Summers on October 6, 1988, and had both claims reviewed for sufficiency at that time. As you are aware, there was at that time, and still is a question whether the Grand Teton Canal Company, which has its diversion point in Wyoming, is subject to the general adjudication of rights under the Snake River Basin adjudication. It was my understanding at the time of submitting this protective claim, that the lack of specific information identified by Mr. Jones was not necessary to otherwise make this a valid protective claim in light of the unresolved issues surrounding the Grand Teton Canal Company delivery system and differences between the company's and the claimant's points of diversion. Mr. Jones indicated he was not aware this claim was previously reviewed in my presence by another staff member.

After discussing the matter with Don Shaff and Dave Shaw at the Department of Water Resources in Boise, it is our understanding that a motion is being filed with the court to resolve the question of whether water rights having points of diversion outside of Idaho but places of use in Idaho are subject to this general Snake River Basin adjudication. Where there has been inconsistent advice given at different times to claimants falling in this category of claim, Mr. Shaw indicated that if the court determines that these claims are subject to the adjudication, a grace period will have to be extended in order to allow all potential claimants the right to file.

Rather than resubmitting the claim at this time, we choose to await the court's determination before filing. We, therefore, respectfully request that our client be refunded the $265 previously paid at the time of the initial filing of this protective claim. I would appreciate you processing this claim for refund through the Boise office. I am sending a copy of this letter to Mr. Shaw for his reference.

This letter also constitutes our demand for notice of the outcome of the pending motion before the court regarding this jurisdictional question of out-of-state points of diversion. Such notice or other information disseminated by the director in this regard should be mailed to us at our address printed above. If you have any questions, please contact me.
