records in the county courthouse at Coeur d'Alene, Idaho; thence continuing in an Easterly direction along said meander shore of said Lake, a distance of 10 rods more or less, to a point, said point being also the NE corner of the L.H. Patterson Tract, as now of record in the County Courthouse; thence continuing in an easterly direction along said meander shore of said Lake, a distance of 10 rods, more or less, to a point, said point being also the NE corner of the W.H. Richter Tract, as now of record in the said County Courthouse; thence continuing in an Easterly direction along said Meander shore of said Lake, a distance of 10 rods and 75 feet more or less to a point being NE corner of Honsowitz tract according to the deed recorded in Book 125, page 284, deed records of Kootenai county, Idaho, and also being the true point of beginning of said piece or parcel of land; thence due South a distance of 1162 feet, more or less to a point; thence in an Easterly direction and parallel to said Meander shore line of said Lake, a distance of 75 feet, more or less, to a point; thence North and parallel to the West line of said Section 2, a distance of 1162 feet, more or less to a point in said meander shore of said Lake; thence in a Westerly direction along said Meander shore line a distance of 75 feet, more or less to the point of beginning, and assessed as the East one-half of Tax No. 1722.

Beckers and Anderson's jointly own a well and pumping system placed into use in the summer of 1993. The well is located on the Anderson parcel directly in front of the Anderson residence approximately 6 feet north of the north basement wall and adjacent to the south edge of roadway and approximately 15 feet west of the east boundary line of the Anderson property. The mutually owned pressure tank is located in the Anderson basement. Becker's water line runs from the pressure tank to the south edge of the roadway and then westerly along the south edge of the roadway approximately sixty feet, where it then enters the Becker's real property.

4. OWNERSHIP OF SYSTEM. The water system shall be jointly and equally owned by Beckers and Andersons. This ownership shall include all equipment common to the water system which is utilized by both parties.

5. INDIVIDUAL WATER LINES. The water lines which connect each individual residence to the water system and which are not jointly used will be maintained by the residence owner having exclusive use thereof.

6. MAINTENANCE OF COMMON WATER SYSTEM. The owners of the water system shall share equally all costs and expenses of maintenance of any and all equipment and lines that are common to the water system and utilized by both owners. Beckers shall pay Andersons their fair share of the power bill prorated on the basis of the comparable amount of use each party makes of said water system.

7. USE OF SYSTEM: Each owner is entitled to the equal use and enjoyment of the water system to provide domestic water to each owner's respective properties.

8. DAMAGE. Neither of the parties shall use the water system in such a manner as to cause damage thereto or in such a manner as to unreasonably interfere with the rights of the other parties under the terms of this Agreement.

9. EASEMENTS. Each of the parties hereto grants to the other party, a perpetual right and easement to enter upon the land upon which the water system is located and upon such sufficient amount of land abutting said facilities to the extent reasonable necessary, from time to time, for the purpose of maintaining, repairing, and reconstructing said facilities in good repair and working condition for the purposes as set forth in the Agreement. Additionally, each of the parties grants to the other party, such easements as are necessary to enable each owner to utilize the water system. Each party hereby grants to the other easements for the existing water system, and further such easements as may be necessary in the future to allow the use and enjoyment of the water system by each owner.

10. DILIGENCE. If a party should exercise such parties' right to enter upon land under the terms of the preceding paragraph for any of the purposes mentioned in said paragraph, the party shall, in doing any maintenance, repair or reconstruction thereon; a) prosecute the maintenance, repair and reconstruction with due diligence, and in such manner as not to cause unreasonable harm or inconvenience to the other owner. b) diligently refill any and all excavations in an orderly and workmanlike manner to substantially return the ground into the condition that it was prior to such excavation.

11. SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE. In the event of any breach of this Agreement or any term or condition thereof, by any party to this Agreement, the other party shall have the right to institute and maintain a suit in a court of competent jurisdiction for specific performance of the Agreement, and each and every term and condition thereof, by the party in default. In addition thereto, the parties, shall have the right to institute and maintain a suit to obtain a restraining order or orders and injunction or injunctions in a court of competent jurisdiction restraining and enjoining any violation of the terms and conditions of this Agreement. In the event that any party to this Agreement should institute suit against the other party for specific performance of this agreement, or any term or condition thereof, or to restrain or enjoin any violation of this Agreement of both, the party against whom the suit is instituted shall not offer, assert, or tender in any such suit that the party instituting the suit has an adequate remedy at law. It is covenanted and agreed that the remedies provided in this paragraph are intended to be cumulative of other remedies provided at law and in equity, and shall not preclude the party to this Agreement who has been offended against from exercising any other remedy afforded at law or in equity to the offended party at the option of the party offended against. In making the agreements contained in this paragraph the parties recognize and agree that an adequate remedy is not afforded at law for a breach of the terms and conditions of this Agreement.

12. WAIVER. The failure of a party to this Agreement to enforce any term, covenant, condition or agreement contained in this Agreement on any breach thereof shall not be deemed to void or affect the right of such party to enforce the same term, covenant, condition or agreement on the occasion of any subsequent default or breach.

13. ATTORNEY FEES. In the event any suit or action is instituted to enforce this Agreement, or any part or portion thereof, or to recover damages for any breach of this Agreement, or for a declaratory judgment, or restraining order or injunction, or specific performance of the terms thereof, the prevailing party in such suit or action shall be entitled to recover from the prevailing party reasonable attorney fees, in addition to the prevailing party's costs and disbursements, in any such suit or action, against the losing party.

14. HEIRS AND ASSIGNS. This Agreement shall be binding upon and shall inure to the benefit of the heirs, executors, administrators, personal representatives, successors and assigns of the respective parties hereto.

15. EFFECTIVE DATE. Effective date hereof means the date the this Agreement is dated immediately below and is the date on which it will take effect regardless of whether one or more of the parties hereto signed it before or after that date.
