Re: SRBA claim A22-11900

Dear Ernie:

As a courtesy to your SRBA files & process, we are writing to share information on the Wyoming water rights associated with 120 acres of Reed O. Christensen (Trust) lands in Idaho under claim A22-11900.

Christensen opted to file in 1999 for a "high-flow" water right under permit 7308E through Wyoming's South Side Canal (POD: Township 44 North, Range 118 West, Section 22, NW¼SW¼), thereby relinquishing any claim to the 1906 Wyoming permit 7420 relied upon in his Idaho claim A22-11900. His new Wyoming permit subjects this surface water right to Idaho's priority schedule, and he acknowledges turning to his Idaho groundwater well each year when interstate regulation of Teton Creek is triggered under the U.S. District Court "Roxanna" Decree (No. 2447 of February 4, 1941).

We believe this new Wyoming surface water permit reflects his historic operation, and anticipate advertising this Wyoming adjudication in January for his 120 acres located in Idaho, and trust there are no other Idaho surface water claims conflicting on these lands.

If we can provide copies of correspondence or permits for your files, please let me know.

Best regards,

Jade Henderson

Re: SRBA claim A22-11900

Dear Ernie:

As a courtesy to your SRBA files & process, we are writing to share information on the Wyoming water rights associated with 120 acres of Reed O. Christensen (Trust) lands in Idaho under claim A22-11900.

Christensen opted to file in 1999 for a "high-flow" water right under permit 7308E through Wyoming's South Side Canal (POD: Township 44 North, Range 118 West, Section 22, NW $\frac{1}{4}$ SW $\frac{1}{4}$), thereby relinquishing any claim to the 1906 Wyoming permit 7420 relied upon in his Idaho claim A22-11900. His new Wyoming permit subjects this surface water right to Idaho's priority schedule, and he acknowledges turning to his Idaho groundwater well each year when interstate regulation of Teton Creek is triggered under the U.S. District Court "Roxanna" Decree (No. 2447 of February 4, 1941).

We believe this new Wyoming surface water permit reflects his historic operation, and anticipate advertising this Wyoming adjudication in January for his 120 acres located in Idaho, and trust there are no other Idaho surface water claims conflicting on these lands.

If we can provide copies of correspondence or permits for your files, please let me know.

Best regards,

Jade Henderson

Re: Irrigation near Driggs

Dear Mr. Christensen:

Thank you for responding to my letter of 21 January 1998. It was helpful for you to provide such detailed information about your use of Teton Creek water. We were particularly interested in the copy of your claim No. A22-11900 filed with Idaho Department of Water Resources in 1988.

As you have clarified, this claim is based upon a Wyoming diversion from Teton Creek called South Side Canal which headgates in the NE $\frac{1}{4}$ SW $\frac{1}{4}$ of Section 22, T44N R118W, and was authorized by Wyoming Permit 7420 dated 10/02/1906 for irrigation of specific acreages in both states. Unfortunately, that Wyoming water right has never included your 120 acres, as you will be able to verify from the enclosed copies of Permit 7420 and its map. (The lands permitted in Section 30 of T5N R46E are all north of your land.)

The references made to Case No. 2447 of 2/04/1941 actually relate to the interstate Roxanna Decree of the U.S. District Court which decreed no new water rights but instead divided the flow of Teton Creek between the 2 states. Each state's portion is to be distributed according to the water rights that already existed. (See yellow highlights on your returned copy of the Roxanna Decree.)

These facts lead us to conclude that your land does not have a water right to divert in Wyoming from Teton Creek.

However, my Water Commissioner informs me that, while your land has the ability of being irrigated from this pipeline lateral of Wyoming's South Side Canal, your lessee mainly irrigates from an Idaho well. (The copy of your Idaho claim additionally refers to a well being used.)

Unless an existing Teton Creek water right can be transferred onto your land under the laws of Wyoming, it would appear that you have 2 options:

PROFILE

- You may apply for a new Wyoming permit called an enlargement of South Side Canal to supplement irrigation of these 120 acres from this pipeline lateral of South Side Canal. This option would require hiring a Wyoming-licensed surveyor to submit the map & application.
- You may elect to disconnect the pipeline so that it cannot bring Teton Creek water underneath the road to your land, as you show in red on your map, and rely instead solely on the Idaho well.

Please consider what course of action you would like to take, and let us know at your earliest convenience. We are not trying to oppose your ability to irrigate with water from Teton Creek, but rather want you to secure water rights which would legally protect that ability. It would be a disservice to let you believe your use of Teton Creek water is protected, and have you later find out during a crisis that you have no right.

We will be happy to clarify or discuss this further if you would like. Otherwise, please let us know how you will proceed.

Best regards,

Jade Henderson
Water Superintendent
