Priority date description: This is a joke....you people have taken something that should have been simple and made it so hard and complicated nobody other than a lawyer is going to know if they filled it out correctly. The legal description section made no sense and im just hoping that it is correct. I have no idea what this priority date is about...is it when I first started using water here or when the house was built...nobody knows...I used the date when the house was built but have no idea on month and day for that so just randomly chose a date. So heres the deal....my place is at 5455 HWY 95, Potlatch, Idaho, Latah county and I have 1.99 acres....I only have a well for private use in the home with no irrigated land. The house was built sometime in 1909....about 60 years before I was born.
