IDAHO DEPARTMENT OF WATER RESOURCES
Adjudication Claim Report 37-22129

Conditions of Approval:

1. Three wells are located near boundary between NWSE and SWSE. Drilling and use of the wells beginning in 1959 caused a hot spring at the site to cease flowing. The hot spring was the water source for a wetland that provided wildlife habitat and hunting opportunities. Since 1959, artesian flows from wells during the non-irrigation season have maintained the wetland habitat. Well drilling began in 1958 and was completed in 1959 (as described in the deposition of holder for water right 37-2591). The claimed priority date is based on estimated date when artesian flow occurred following the 1959 irrigation season. Artesian flow has occurred each year to the wetland area at times the wells were not being pumped for irrigation purposes under rights 37-2591, 37-4427, 37-7937.

My cell # I won't be able to be there at 10:30, but I will swing by as soon as I can. I have to be in Bellevue earlier. I'm including more photos that show the other two wells that run when the water table is up. They will be easy to measure. I can also walk you through my test last fall and show you the data I collected. I've been telling Jim Speck that measuring this flow is not a slam dunk.....

Best, Cindy
