Stockwater use is for 400 cow-calf pairs. ✓

30 June 2010

To Whom It May Concern:

The purpose of this letter is to provide data that supports the number of livestock that the P. Thomas Blotter Ranch owns. The livestock summer in Slug Creek, Idaho, is part of the ranching operation maintained by the Blotter Ranch. Records are reported for the year 2008 and are reasonably similar to prior years.

From January 2009 to July 2010, I have been serving a humanitarian mission in Armenia and my children have been operating the ranch. That is why my last year of personal involvement in 2008 was selected.

LIVESTOCK—2008

Spring Calving Cows	763 head
Fall Calving Cows	315 head
Bulls	32 head
Subtotal	1110 head
Yearlings	350 head

In summary, the livestock in Slug Creek was:

Mature Cows and Bulls	1110 head
Yearlings	350 head
In addition at an 87% Calf Crop	965 calves

To Whom It May Concern
30 June 2010
Page Two

In order to support this livestock count, the 2008 winter feed data is provided as follows:

Grass Hay	1554 ton
Alfalfa Hay	1412 ton
Oat Hay	308 ton
Straw	374 ton
Corn Silage	33 ton
	3681 ton
	-300 ton (Carryover and Yearlings)
	3381 ton (Fed to Mature Livestock)

Typically, 3 ton per animal are required to feed 180 days during the winter in Bear Lake. This would require 3300 ton. The winter feed is consistent with the summer grazing to support the number of livestock.

Our operation sells the majority of the spring calves in September. The lightweight spring calves are backgrounded through the winter and returned to pasture at Slug Creek. The fall calves are left on their mothers, weaned in April, and then pastured until September-October. Consequently, the yearling spring and yearling fall calves are pastured. This total count of yearlings only is in the range of 300-400 head.

In summary, a livestock count of 1000 pairs, 32 bulls, plus 400 yearlings has been used and is well within the grazing capability of the Blotter Ranch, as operated in the past. Adequate stock water is needed for the livestock as defined above.

Sincerely,

P. Thomas Blotter, General Partner
P. Thomas Blotter Family, LLP
