Company History

Started by a previously indentured servant, James Wilson, way back in 1819, a trained painter and glazier, founded William M. Wilson's Sons on old Philadelphia's "Merchant's Row." For a century, this small company, named in honor of the founder's father, specialized in painting, glazing, and wholesale distributing.

In the early 1900s, Wilson's Sons became a steel drum distributor, and added petroleum dispensing equipment in the early 1920s. In 1928, they manufactured their first pump, adopting the Gasboy brand name. Their development of the first combination pump and tank package for farms in the 1930s, was the beginning of a company history of innovative solutions designed to meet the unique needs of their customers.

During the 40's, 50's and 60's, Wilson's Sons has continued to be the industry leader in the development and advancement of petroleum dispensing products. The first continuous flow hand pump, the first compact electric pump designed for consumers, the first direct drive transfer pump, the first automatic fuel management system, and the first integrated POS system are just a few of the many innovative products designed to meet the changing needs of the market.

From the first direct-drive small transfer pump in the 1950s, to the first microprocessor-based card-activated fuel management system in the 1970s, to the first electronic registration fleet dispenser in the 1990s, Gasboy provided groundbreaking products to enhance customer business and profitability.

In 1986, due to the world-wide recognition of its Gasboy brand name and an international focus, Wilson's Sons officially changed its name to Gasboy International.

In 2002, Gasboy International was purchased from Tokheim Inc. by Danaher Corporation and became part of the Gilbarco family of companies.

In 2016, Gasboy became part of Fortive Corporation as part of a successful spin-off of Danaher's test and measurement and industrial businesses.

Now as it nears its third century, Gasboy continues to push the boundaries of innovation as a leading supplier of fuel management systems and fleet dispensers.

Hi Erin,

Regarding the 11 fruit trees in the orchard they are in dire need of recuperation with fertilizer and insect treatments but most importantly they are needing between 15 to 30 gallons of water per tree per day. I have attached the several links that discuss that we used to find this information. Your orchard is salvageable but we have to act quickly to help it recover. Please let me know if you have any questions and we hope this helps.

To the Court,

I am presenting this CBSR case Pro Se so please bear with me if my presentation of information/evidence is not pleasing to the Court. I have invested a valuable amount of time and resources to course correct some important benefits to my property that have been lost to us by the failure of previous parties to pass along pertinent information through change of ownership. Among those parties that failed to relay information and maintain continuity in a paperwork trail there are professionals who failed to do their job either by neglect or intent.

After extensive research on our behalf my working theory is that in 1969/70 Oscar Earl Hansen build his house (now owned by Jones) with his son and they both installed the 7,000 gallon cistern. I know this because I had a phone conversation with Mr. Jan Hansen in Fall of 2018. I believe that Mr. Oscar Earl Hansen use Spring water located at the Northern boundary of his property which now is located on my property because the priority date of 95-0949 is 1970. Jan Hansen bought or was given what is my property now in 1977 and built his/my house in 1978. The well that we are currently using on Petersen's property across Reservoir was dug on 1979 and Jan Hansen purchased that well, its from Lynn Purcell. It supplied domestic water to 17716 N Reservoir since then. In 1982 Mr O. Earl Hansen had a well dug on what is now my property and that is when diversion works where created to fill the 7,000 gallon cistern that I believe is on my side of the property line; this cistern pumps water to Jones house for domestic usage. I interviewed Mr. Conrad Renburg and he visited my property 7-11-19 and confirmed what I have researched and understand now. Mr. Renburg used gravity fed water from Spring Branch Creek to irrigated his orchard trees and that line has since been cut on my Southern property line I believe after Mr. Renburg sold this property in 1999. Subsequent owners did not use gravity fed water from 95-4360 because they didn't know that it existed.

Furthermore, due to time constraints and prioritization of water right issues I was unable to file paperwork with the Court to correct documents filed with IDWR showing that the well that is currently providing domestic water to my place of residence exists in a forty (40) page field examination of Water License 95-08624 dated 4-2-92 and claims that said well provides water to Bob and Sandy Jones rental property to the South of my property which is completely incorrect and creates a great amount of confusion and complications in the area of understanding water rights; who uses/owns what water right, well, share, etc.

This is a detail-intense case but I am confident that I can answer any questions that you might have during your review of information and evidence regarding my objections to water claim 95-4360 and 95-0949 because of the commitment that I have made to uncover the real events in the past. We have spent an incredible amount of time and money to uncover this information including talking with several neighbors since mid September 2018 to gain understanding; all of which should have been made known and available to us during the process of purchasing this house.

Respectfully submitted,

Erin Kingsbury
