Re: SRBA Subcase No. 29-13296

Dear Mr. Sexton:

This letter follows up on the telephone status conference held in the above subcase. I understand you had questions about IDWR's offer of 4 acres and 0.13 cfs with a 1950 priority date.

At this time, the Department is not willing to change its offer. Based on Mr. Jones' field exam and evidence in the file, four acres is all that is justifiable and 1950 is the only priority date that can be documented. If you believe you have documentation that would support changing the acres to 15 acres and changing the priority date to 1908, please contact Ernie Carlsen, at (208) 525-7161 at the Department's Eastern Region Office to discuss this further. The trial in this matter is set for September 29, 2004 so your prompt attention to this matter is appreciated.

Very Truly Yours,

RE: Claim A29-13296

This field exam was done on May 14, 2004 with the claimant Robin C. Sexton to establish the validity of an irrigated place of use and to get evidence of priority.

This claim A29-13296 is based on a "243" claim #29-04459 filed by Rex Sexton. Three copies of affidavits are included with this report attesting to irrigation or water use by the Sexton family. Robin Sexton had them in his file and stated he had submitted the originals to the Department at an earlier date. I could not locate these originals. Robin stated he could provide additional affidavits if needed.

Rex Sexton was the uncle of the claimant, Robin Sexton. Robin came into possession of the place of use listed in claim A29-13296 in 1996 when his uncle passed away. Robin stated that he had helped with the irrigating and farming of the claimed places of use when he was in his early teens. Robin is now 49 years old.

Photo #1 shows the point of diversion historically used. It is the one spot where Sorrel Creek and the land surface are on a level plane. Most of the rest of the creek has cut down deeply.

Visible in photos #1,2 and 3 is the 3 inch steam pressure pipe salvaged from the railroad by Rex Sexton who was a railroad employee. This pipe was connected and laid over the places of use to irrigate by gravity flow. All the irrigated ground is, naturally, downstream of this point of diversion.

The sections of 3 inch pipe were found through out the property. In addition large sections of 1 1/2 inch plastic pipe remnants were found along the creek bed.

Photos #4 through #8 show the original irrigated places of use adjacent to Sorrel Creek. Robin Sexton stated that his uncle Rex had raised wheat, barley and sweet corn for market.

The Arc-View map for these places of use did not seem to be available on the Department computer system. Included is an ASCS over flight (circa unknown) with the places of use shaded in red. The approximate point of diversion is also shown.

The point of diversion GPS coordinates for this historic use are;
2642975 No GPS tag installed
