Item 5. Description of diverting works

Well is drilled to a depth of approximately 200 feet, with an 8-inch steel casing from the surface to an unknown depth. The diameter is believed to taper to 6 inches in the lower part of the borehole. Water is delivered by way of a 1-hp pump and 1-inch-diameter pipeline to the house/POU including approximately one-half acre of irrigable lawn and landscape. Claimants repaired and reinstalled pump in 2014. System also includes a 1,500-gallon reserve tank which was installed by Claimants in 2015.

Item 13. Date of priority

Evidence indicates Claimants' predecessors in interest established domestic groundwater use from this source at some point in the early 1950s after having used water from springs located on the property for domestic purposes since establishing residence there around 1900. When Claimants pulled the well's pump for repair in 2014, a date inscribed (though partially obscured) on the mechanism suggests it had originally been installed in the 1950s, which corresponds with the time span in which the house still standing at that location was believed to have been remodeled. Domestic use from the well has been continuous since the well's construction, and subsequent to Claimants' purchase of the property in 2009.
