In 1953 my parents, William W. and Norma Bartlett, purchased 80 acres at 1361 Crane Creek Road, Potlatch, Idaho. When purchased the property had a well that supplied them water, so I am not sure when it was drilled, it is marked on the map as well #1. It is piped to the old house and a lawn hydrant.

In 1973 they drilled a new well and built a new house. It is marked as well #2 on the map. It is 115' deep, produces 15 gallons per minute and has a submergible pump. The two wells are not plumbed together.

When I was 12 years old (1961) they ran a half inch pipe from the spring that was in a pasture to a cistern they built. When the cistern is full the overflow returns to the ditch which flows into Crane Creek. The cistern was how we watered the cattle (10 head) and horses (3).
