Re: Claim A-362256
P/D 8S, 15E, 9 SE/SE

Dear Sirs:

I would like to apply for an admendment to the well water I filed on during the Adjudication.

When I went to file on this water I guess that I didn't understand what the Lady was asking me or she didn't understand what I was saying. I didn't realize that I had limited the well to 11 acres until I talked to the Real Estate Office last week. The lady asked me how many acres the well covered and I told her that it would water the whole farm but that there was some high ground that had to be watered by the well. She asked how many acres and I thought that she was talking about the high ground and I figured out approximately 11.

I have since sold this farm on a contract of mortgage so I have still have the water in my name and it is very important that I get the water rights back to it's original state.

Thank you in advance for your assistance in this matter.

Sincerely,

Orville L Mattice

DIRECTIONS TO PROPERTY / REMARKS:

This claim was amended on 6-30-92 to include acres originally irrigated. I did a drive by to verify the P/U. I found that contour ditches do exist that would allow the P/U to be irrigated as claimed. It appeared that the only irrigation being done on this date was from canal Co. water. The 11 acres originally claimed was dry and did not appear to have been irrigated at any time this year.

The property is going through a change in ownership at this time which could explain the lack of irrigation from the well. Lacking contrary information I accept the claimant's word that the entire 80 acres has periodically been watered by the well water and I recommend this right as amended.

PICTURE # 2

This picture was taken from the west side of the P/U and is looking east. Shown in the foreground is a portion of a cement tile used to convey water from the ditch that runs east to west along the northern boundary of the P/U. That ditch and the cement line is how the well water reaches the south east corner of the P/U. The unirrigated portions of the P/U appear to be from neglect this irrigation season rather than not being able to deliver water to the ground. I feel that the ground can and has been irrigated within the last few years.

PICTURE SET # 1

This picture set is looking west on the left side, north in the middle and northeast on the right side. Barely visible is a dirt ditch that was used to deliver water to the ground in the center of this set. By field observation, it appears that nearly all the bare ground has or could be irrigated. A small rock out cropping in the center could not be irrigated but is considered insignificant. The lot on the far right also has ditches running through it. The farmstead shown on the right is the highest point within the P/U.
