Comment: This right flows into the common ditch system that irrigates the ground with the other water rights applicable to this ground (Joslin Ditch). Even though the diversion rate is small compared to the acreage it covers, it is in combination with other water and therefore can be put to beneficial use.

Re: Affidavit from Claude Bruce (dated 12/16/05, notarized 12/22/05) regarding 67-4456

The problem:

After reviewing this affidavit, I require more information before I can recommend a priority date for this claim. Mr. Bruce identified the same spring claimed for irrigation by the Williamsons, and he indicated that it had been first improved in the 1930s or 1940s. However, he failed to give any indication of his age, so I cannot determine what he actually witnessed.

The solution:

I called Mr. Bruce on April 19, 2006 to ask him to provide his date of birth. He informed me that he was born on June 7, 1934. Mr. Bruce also related a pertinent story to me: he was 5 or 6 years old when the springs were first improved by the Civilian Conservation Corps (the "ccc" he refers to in his hand-written affidavit), and he remembers walking to the springs from the house in order to ask the men working in the CCC about what they were doing. With this supplementary information, I feel very confident in recommending a 1939 priority date for this right.

Re: SRBA claim 67-4456

December 8, 2005

Dear Mr. & Mrs. Williamson:

My name is Dan Narsavage and it is my task to review the claims to water rights along Mann Creek in the Snake River Basin Adjudication (SRBA). In reviewing your SRBA claim 67-4456 for supplementary water out of the springs on your property, I have encountered an issue that I cannot resolve without your assistance.

This claim is based on Beneficial Use. This means that there has never been a formal review performed on this water use in the past. Because of this, in order to recommend this water right, I must have evidence to support your claimed priority date of 1913, also known as Evidence of Priority (EOP). For your convenience, I have enclosed a pamphlet that explains EOP in more detail and provides examples of some acceptable forms of EOP.

I look forward to hearing from you in the near future. Please call, write, or email me on or before January 20, 2006 so that I may recommend your SRBA claims in a timely and accurate manner. I understand that it has been several years since you filed these claims and that the goals of this letter may not be completely clear to you. If this is the case, please call me and I will gladly discuss your options with you. Thank you very much for your time.

Sincerely,

Daniel L. Narsavage

The large spring dug by the

REVIEW MEMO FOR ADJUDICATION CLAIM 67-4456
BY DAN NELSON
8/22/2005

I performed a field examination of water right 67-4456 on 8/22/2005. During this examination I found a total of 6 springs. All six of these springs supplied stockwater for approximately 150 cow calf pairs or 300 head of range cattle. I measured each spring using the bucket and stop watch method using a 5 gallon bucket. The table below shows the results of those measurements:

SPRING	SECONDS REQUIRED TO FILL 5 GALLON BUCKET	GALLONS PER MINUTE
1	89	3.4
2 & 3 (These springs were measured together, because the outflow from the last common tank was the only reasonable place to measure.	54	5.6
4	76	3.9
5	15.7	15.7
6	148	2
TOTAL		30.6 GPM OR 0.068 CFS

The field examiner's handbook allows 0.07 cfs for stockwater for 300 head of range cattle. Whereas there are 300 head at times for this farm, I recommend that the 0.07 cfs diversion rate be allowed for stockwater.

I did not attain information regarding proof of priority, since I was only told to attain locations of the springs and stock tanks, and the diversion rates from these springs.

Spring number 6 is also listed for irrigation. The spring only diverts 2 gpm or less than the minimum of 0.01 cfs. The spring flows through a stock tank and then opens discharges into the Joslin Ditch to supplement the irrigation water in that ditch. Even though the Joslin Ditch irrigates approximately 30 acres from the point beyond the spring, the spring supplies very little of this irrigation water. However, it seems as though this portion of the right needs to be addressed, since the spring does supply some irrigation water.

The following are the legal descriptions of the springs that I found:

Oh yeah, the spring is a source and gets recommended as a right, now that IDWR has confirmed water is appropriated from the spring for the claimed use. I don't want to make it any tougher than .02 cfs on 30 acres, but the combined condition for the rights would be the amount of the other rights or what runs in the ditch, whichever is smaller.

Hey Guy's,

Dan Nelson is looking at a permit that overlaps one of my SRBA claims. I don't know the claim number. But the claim, claims 30 acres of irrigation from a spring. Dan conducted a field exam and found the spring to produce about 2 gal/min but does feed into a ditch that is supplemented by other ditch water. So the 2 gpm from the spring does make it to the 30 acre POU.

Dan says that in allocations, they would note that the spring is too small to recognize and not list it as a source. But he wanted to know how we would do that in the SRBA. I have never run into a situation like this where the source was that small.

Any guidance?

Craig

4-27-05: Is irrigation diverted from springs or is it just sub water.

: Stock POU is huge. Did claimant claim area where cattle graze, or does water actually get to Entire POU.

: Evidence of Priority needed if Acres are actually "Irrigated".

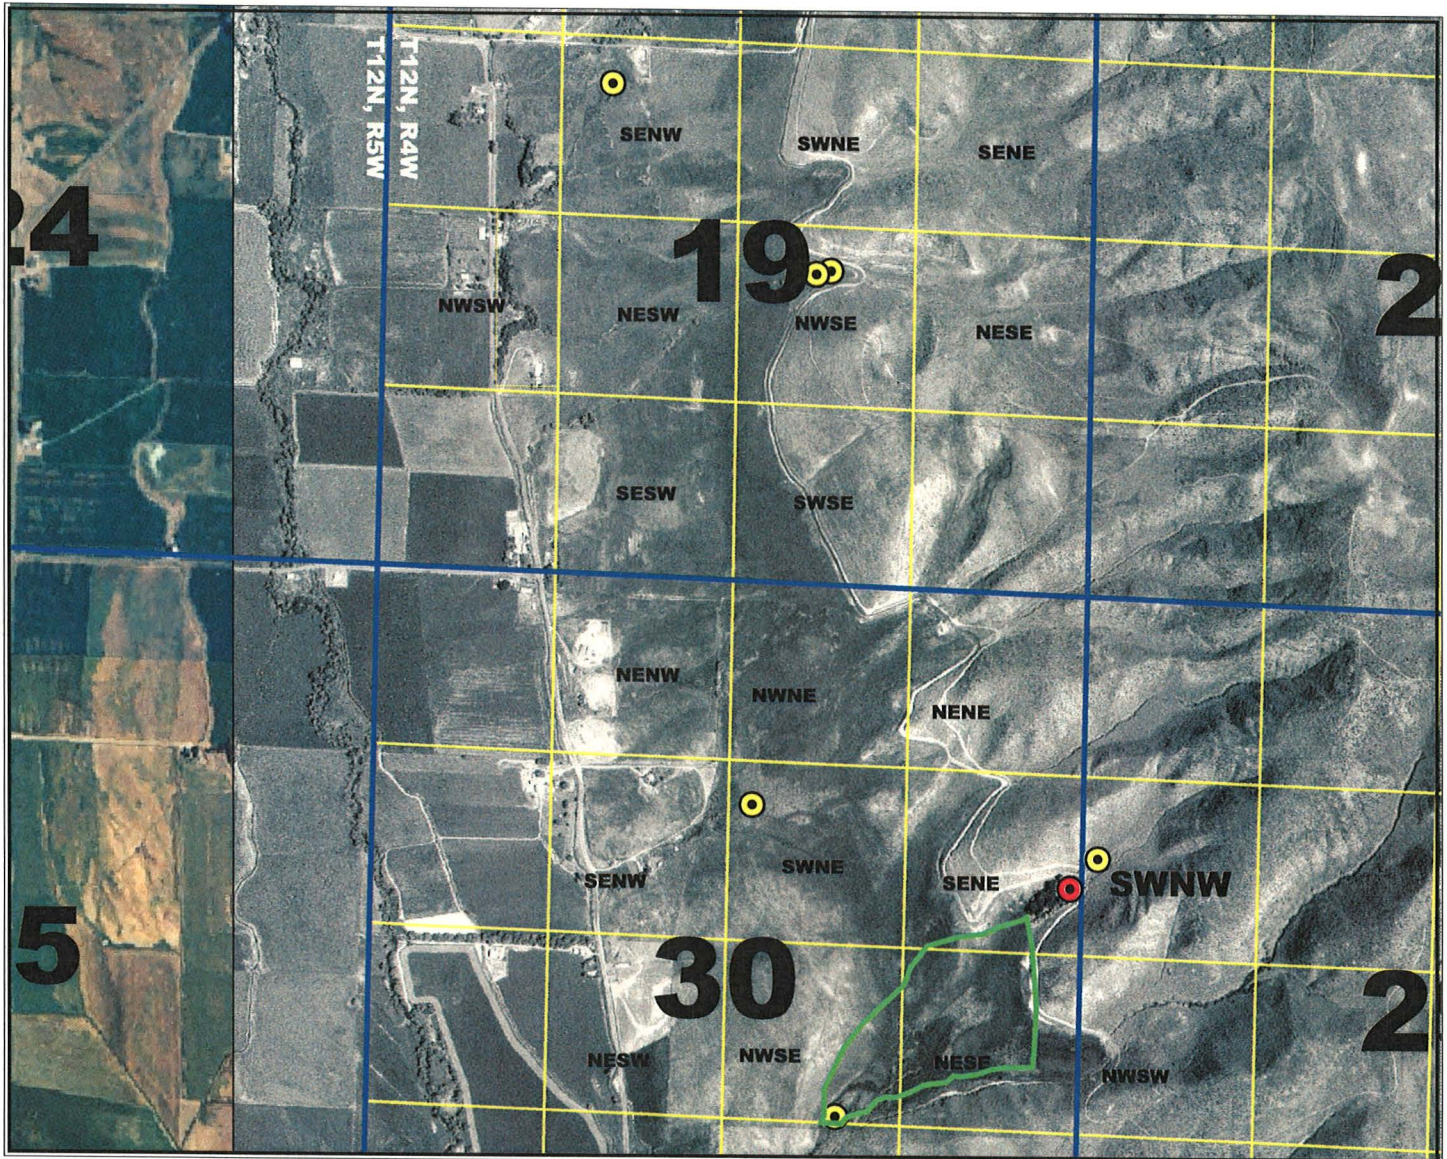

• : My initial thought is we will drop irrigation because it is sub irrigation and Rec Stock under Code 42-111, But we need to confirm it

Re: Notice of Claim to a Water Right No. 67-2078A, 67-4456, 67-7189, 67-10383 & 67-10384

Dear Claimant(s):

Enclosed is a copy of the above referenced claim(s), which reflect the change in ownership of the land and appurtenant water rights, covered under the original filing.

Please note that the enclosed Notice of Claim to a Water Right is not a final determination of your water right. This claim was filed during claims taking in the Snake River Basin Adjudication (SRBA) and has not yet been verified by this Department. Water rights are established and maintained by beneficial use of water for the uses designated on this claim form dating back to the priority date listed. This claim will be investigated, verified and recommended to the SRBA Court for court decree sometime in the near future. You will be notified prior to the beginning of any verification of this water right.

Thank you for your patience and cooperation, as we have had several water right changes to process. If you have any questions concerning the enclosed information, please feel free to contact this office.

Sincerely,

Denise Buffington
