Comments:

1. csaxton 4/6/2005 From Claim

Comment: This water right was originally licensed for domestic use. IDWR staff have suggested that the right be claimed for commercial use because the use has always been associated with a manufacturing facility. Uses include domestic (sinks, toilets, etc.), dry wall cleaning and cellulose moisture. The license exam noted use by 100 employees per day at 50 gallons per employee per day.

2. csaxton 4/6/2005 Purpose of Use

Comment: Licensed for Domestic but claimed as commercial. Actual use is for employees that work in a home manufacturing facility. Recommend as commercial but add C04 to show change from license. Actual use really has not changed.

Dan -

I apologize for causing you to write the long version. I recognize that such explanations take a lot of time. We will make the changes that you suggested as the path of least resistance. However, I can't let it go without making a couple of comments -- no need to respond as we are both wasting too much time on this.

Idaho code 42-1414(i) only provides one option for domestic -- $25. Apparently, in practice there is a flat fee plus variable fee for domestic, but it doesn't read that way.

The transfer memo specifically prohibits transfer of rights that relied on domestic exemption. These did not.

Terry,

I am sorry, my earlier information was confusing, but when you first asked me to address this issue you asked that I give you the short version. I guess I was a little too brief, so I am afraid I am going to have to give you the long version.

Your client paid a fee for their adjudication claims of $25.00 each for both 67-7124 and 67-7128. Idaho code 42-1414 (i) states that claims for domestic and/or stockwater uses are required to pay a $25.00 fee. Idaho code 42-1401A (4) defines domestic use for the purpose of chapter 42-1400 through 42-1428 as "domestic use is defined in section 42-111, Idaho Code. Idaho Code 42-111 (b) limits a commercial type of use to 2,500 gallons per day. The Idaho Rules of Procedures 37.03.01 030 01 also limits the adjudication staff to viewing domestic uses to the definition in 42-111 or to a maximum of 13,000 gpd single family households and stockwater and 2,500 gpd for all other uses.

Therefore, by paying the $25.00 fee, your client has further defined their water rights to be limited to 2,500 gallons per day as described in Idaho Code 42-111. The payment of this fee overrides any past licensing exams or decrees. The reason the fee overrides everything else is because your client has basically told us that they do not want to pay for the full water right as listed on the license or decrees, but just that portion defined in Idaho Code 42-111. I am sure this is just a misunderstanding, but we cannot allow the full licensed amounts to be decreed unless the full fee is paid.

To answer your question on the subdivisions. If you review the above codes, you will notice that municipalities are treated much like a commercial use. They are not allowed to pay the minimum $25.00 fee, unless they want the entire water use limited to a maximum of 13,000 gallons per day. The same holds true for a multi home subdivision. Unless the entire subdivision wants to be limited to 13,000 gallons per day instead of 13,000 gallons per day per home, they need to pay the full fee required under 42-1401A, which is based on the diversion rate. This has been the way the fees and recommendations have been handled since the beginning of the adjudication process.

The use that your client has is actually a commercial use. It has always been a commercial use, and I recommend that you take the proper steps change the adjudication claim so it is described that way to avoid the confusion described above by your clients, and prevent anything may future explanations to fit with changing administrative memorandums, rules and statutes. During the time that these water rights were licensed, it was common practice to call small commercial uses supplying water mainly for restrooms and drinking fountains domestic, even though they used more than the 2,500 gallons per day. After observing the complications that arise by calling these uses domestic, we now try to convince all water users to call these uses commercial, and avoid the confusion your clients are currently going through.

Craig has informed me that you can change the use at this time to a commercial use, which I strongly suggest you do. You will need to provide evidence that the use is actually a commercial use. This evidence could be an affidavit from the owner stating that these uses have been used in a factory setting as described in the departments beneficial field exam report. This would draw attention to field exam that clearly states that this use was for a commercial use.

My main concern is that our new transfer memo clearly states that we cannot process a transfer on a domestic use. The Western Region office's interpretation of this portion of the memo is that it relates only to domestic water rights as described in 42-111. However, we have found that in the last few months our State Office staff are interpreting the memo more literally than we anticipated. The main reason for this is that they are trying to maintain a consistency across the state for water right transfers. Transfer issues are much stricter in the Eastern Snake Plain Aquifer area with the recent water disputes, and we are finding ourselves being required to adhere to the same standards as the other Regions.

Terry, I hope this clarifies these issues. The filing fee and domestic limitation issue is not a new one, and has been around since the beginning of the adjudication. The issue about not allowing domestic uses to be involved in a transfer has existed since the transfer processing memo was adopted in 2002. The only issue that is really negotiable is leaving the use description as a domestic use instead of changing it to a commercial use. I feel it would be in your client's best interest to seek to change the record, or you could be facing similar troubles regarding this description down the road. It may make future water right work easier to change the use to its correct description.

If you have any further questions, please contact me and I will do my best to answer your questions.

Dan -

I don't see how these rights are subject to the domestic limitation in 42-111. My reading of 42-111 is that it refers to uses that are restricted to less than 2500 gpd, which these rights are not. Nor are these rights a combination of exempt domestic uses as defined under 42-111(3). These rights were developed and licensed under the mandatory application and permit process. Maybe I incorrectly filed the claims? I don't see where I listed the annual volumes on claims 7125, 7126, and 7128, but as you pointed out they are licensed for more than the 2500 af volume. There is no volume on the license for 7124, but there also is not a limitation of 2500 gpd.

I am confused. I think I see where Craig is coming from in terms of adjudication, as 42-111 references 42-1401A (and vice versa). However, how does the adjudication handle domestic use for large multiple home subdivisions with public water systems? These uses don't meet the requirements of 42-111 either.

I'm not trying to cause trouble here, but I am reluctant to go back to Champion with another change if we don't need to. The fee is not an issue, but I don't want to amend if I can avoid the hassle.

Subject: Additional Information

Hello Terry,

I passed this email by Craig to ensure that said everything correctly, and of course I didn't. You are going to need to send some type of evidence that these uses are actually commercial uses. I would suggest a statement and reference to the field exam that clearly shows that these rights were licensed for a commercial type use. I would mention that these should actually be referred to a commercial use, since more than 2500 gallons per day have been used as allowed by the licenses, which grant volumes above the maximum 2.8 afa for a commercial domestic use.

Unfortunately, domestic use was a common verbiage used several years ago that is now causing problems with small commercial type uses. Hopefully, we can get this clarified and taken care of fairly easily. I am sorry for the inconvenience.

Dear Dan:

I have discussed the questions and comments in your letter of October 15, 2004, with a representative of Champion Home Builders. The following is our response.

Transfer of Water Right 67-7225. Given that a transfer is not required, Champion would be pleased to withdraw the transfer. Can you send us a withdrawal form?

Water Right 67-7125. I have marked on the enclosed map the location of the former Weiser Products Division Plant. The approximate location of the well supplying this right is shown by the "x" on the north side of the building. As noted in your letter, this facility is no longer owned by Champion and is not part of the transfer.

Water Right 67-7124. I have marked on the enclosed map the location of the former Home Division Plant. The location of the well supplying this right is shown by the "x" on the south side of the building. The use under this water right is being transferred to the new plant and new public water system well in the NESW of Section 9. Any continued use from this well for the former Home Division Plant will be de minimis (less than 2500 gpm). This is the facility that has been eliminated.

Water Right 67-7126 and 67-7128. I have marked on the enclosed map the location of the Tamarack Division Plant and the Main Plant (i.e., both located in the same complex). The location of the well supplying these rights is shown by the "x" on the south side of the building. This well will be abandoned, and the water will now be supplied from the new public water system well in the NESW of Section 9.

Back-Up Well. A back-up well is not proposed. The new well will be the only well to supply the facilities.

As requested, we will send you a deed for the property if it can be located. In the meantime, please contact me with any questions.

Sincerely,

Terry M. Scanlan, P.E., P.G.

Subject: Water Rights Champion Home Builders Company

Dear Dan:

On behalf of Champion Home Builders Company, we are pleased to submit the following documents.

- SRBA Claim for Water Rights 67-7124
- SRBA Claim for Water Rights 67-7126
- SRBA Claim for Water Rights 67-7128
- SRBA Claim for Water Rights 67-7225
- Application for Transfer of Water Rights 67-7124, 67-7126, and 67-7128
- Application for Transfer of Water Right 67-7225

The water right claims reflect water use at the facility at the start of the Snake River Basin Adjudication in 1987. These uses included a small amount of industrial water use that continues to the present. Industrial use was not listed on the original water right licenses, but we have listed it on claim 67-7126 as an accomplished transfer.

Champion no longer owns or operates a facility in the SWNW of Section 9. As a result, Champion is not submitting a claim for domestic water right 67-7125 that serves that facility.

The application for transfer of water rights 67-7124, 67-7126, and 67-7128 seeks to modify the water rights to reflect current and future uses at the site. Champion Homes constructed a new facility in the NESW of Section 9 in approximately 1998. This facility replaced one of two facilities in the SENW of Section 9.

The application for transfer of water right 67-7225 seeks to provide fire protection to the Champion facility in the NESW of Section 9. The fire protection system continues to provide fire protection to facilities in the SWNW and SENW of Section 9.

As part of this submittal, Champion also requests that their application for permit submitted on March 31, 2004 be withdrawn. The claims and transfer described above will support the uses sought by the application for permit.

We have enclosed a check for $442 for filing fees. This check is based on $25 each for claims 67-7124 and 67-7128 (as diversion under each of these water rights is 13,000 gpd or less), $52 for claim 67-7226 ($50 flat fee plus $2 for 0.02 cfs industrial), $50 for claim 67-7225 ($50 flat fee), $100 for the transfer of 67-7124, 67-7126, and 67-7128, $290 for transfer of 67-7225, and $100 credit for the filing fee associated with the withdrawn application for permit.

Please contact me with any questions.

Sincerely,
