Craig and Monica,

I agree completely with Craig's analysis. The only other piece of information that we may have that will lead us to confirm that the stockwater use is less than 13,000 gpd is if the number of livestock is listed on the original claim. I usually try to check to see if it is 1,000 head or less, but even then I would still recommend the stockwater use with the 13,000 gpd limit if we don't have any evidence of the priority date.

Wow, that is a really good question. I had to think about it for a while.

Short answer:

You don't need evidence of priority for the Stock water split. Get evidence for the irrigation portion 67-14345, and we can just run through the stock portion 67-14346 without any evidence.

Analysis:

Note: Doma means that this use could be described under Domestic definition A and requires the appropriate n-codes limiting the right to 13,000 gpd and "not a historical determination of use".

A couple of thoughts: They Paid $50. They really should have paid $52 but we will let that go as it isn't worth the effort or maybe it was paid under a canal company. Let's just say that they paid $52. $50 claim and $2 for the acres.

If we did the recommendation before the split, we would ask for evidence of priority for the whole claim, but really what we are wanting is the irrigation portion. We would just slap on the n-codes limiting the stock to 13K gal/day and say "not a determination of historical use" and call it good. So we are treating the stock as Doma anyway. So that is one reason to not ask for evidence of priority.

But that made me think... that could be wrong. How would we know, short of a separate $50 claims for stock, that the stock shouldn't be recommended as Doma. The only way I can think of is the claimant would have had to pay for the Stock diversion rate. Fees for a Doma stock claim is $50 claim fee and $100 per cfs. So this situation the claimant would have had to pay:

$50 claim fee
$2 (2 acres)
$4 (0.04 cfs)
Total = $56

I have never seen this. But that would be my second reason not to require evidence of priority for the stock split.

Note however, that since I don't think we should make a big deal out of the $2 they didn't pay, I don't know why paying an extra $4 would make any difference. But I think if they did pay the $4, it would show that the intent of the claimant was that the stock use shouldn't have the n-codes and not limited 13,000 g/d.

Lastly, you have to get evidence of priority for the irrigation anyway, you could hold out and wait for that before recommending the stock portion. But the thing is, if the claim was a whole, and we didn't get evidence of priority, we would drop the irrigation and recommend stock as Doma to avoid disallowing the claim entirely anyway. Third reason.

We will pass this onto my "main-man-Carter" and see if he has any other input. But for now, short of different guidance from Carter, we will just slam the Stock split through with the n-codes.

Craig

These were originally claimed as 67-11575 and they paid $50. Since, there was a change of ownership and the claim was split, with one owner taking the irrigation part for 0.04 cfs and the other the stockwater part for 0.04 cfs. Since they paid $50 initially, do we still seek evidence of priority? Thanks!

Renumbered Notice of Claim to a Water Right No. 67-14346

Dear Claimants:

We have received and processed a Change of Ownership for a portion of the original Claim to a Water Right Number as referenced above. This Change of Ownership required a split of the original claim resulting in renumbering this claim, using a new water right number to represent each split. Your portion of this claim has a specified point of diversion, nature of use and place of use. If you plan on changing the nature of use, place of use, or point of diversion under this right, including adding a new point of diversion, then an Application for Transfer on your portion of this right is required. Please contact this office for further information on the Application for Transfer form. If you do not plan on changing any items on your claim, then no further action is required at this time. You will be notified of any future action taken on this claim.

Please note, the ownership has also been changed on claim numbers 67-636, 67-714, 67-715 and 67-716, and copies are enclosed for your records.
